FRIDAY MORNING, VOL. XXXIX, APRIL 2, 1920.

AMERICA'S NEWSPAPERS
A CHAMPION HOOVER.

Springfield "Republican" is Gratified that the G.O.P. Has Real League
Advocate; Other Comment.

ASIOMAR (Cal.) April 1.—A straw vote for President taken at the State High School Principals' Convention today resulted as follows: Hoover, 256; Johnson, 28; Wood, 12; Lowden, 9, and Wilson, 7.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Mr. Hoover's declaration of his position as attracted the prompt attention of the newspapers of the United States. Some comments follow:

Springfield Republican (Independent).—In the absence among the Republican candidates of any effective courageous advocate of the League, Mr. Hoover has determined to let his name be used in order that the League may have some champion and Republicans a chance to indicate their preference.

Chicago Tribune.—Under the caption, "Mr. Hoover's Announcement," the Chicago Tribune said editorially: "While the Tribune holds that all three of the leading candidates for the Presidency previously announced are sound Presidential timber and well worthy the support of voters, we think the entrance of Mr. Hoover into the field is distinctly beneficial to the campaign."

Springfield Union (Republican).—Mr. Hoover is certainly making progress toward finding out where he is at politically speaking. It was only a few weeks ago that he could not tell whether he was a Republican or Democrat. If somebody would explain the difference between them he would try to classify himself.

Indianapolis Star (Republican).—There is nothing to be feared from Mr. Hoover's declaration. It is the straightforward utterance of a man whose attitude toward parties and public questions corresponds to the sentiments of the average citizen, who is not bound and gagged by party discipline or party ideology.

It is true that party devotees will ask about his past affiliations, but all that honorable men and women have the right to ask is that he declare himself honestly as he believes and feels. This he has done, without fear or attempt to curry favor.

Indianapolis News Republican (Pro-Wood).—Though he had refused to allow his name to go before any primary, his friends and supporters have been working for him, without objection from him, to have his name put on the ticket. Hoover does not even say unconditionally that he will support the Republican party. He writes as a Republican of very decidedly independent tendencies.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat (Independent Republican).—Mr. Hoover is a man of great qualities. He is a man of great qualities. He is a man of great qualities.

NEW YORK, April 1.—A confidential report to President Wilson by Herbert Hoover, in which the Food Administrator outlined his position on control of the Chicago packing industry, was made public tonight by the Hoover National Republican Club with the announcement that the President has directed his publication.

The announcement stated that the report, dated September 11, 1919, was made six months ago, in response to President Wilson's request for Mr. Hoover's observations in recommendation of the Federal Trade Commission with regard to the five large packing firms.

Mr. Hoover said he did not feel that the government "should undertake the solution of the problem by the temporary authority conferred under the war powers of the Railway and Food Administration," but rather that it "should be laid before Congress for searching consideration."

"Exhaustive debate and development of public opinion should be had, just as has been necessary in the development of the public interest in our banks, insurance companies and railroads."

The report reviewed the "underlying economics" of the growth of the packing industry and with regard to the packers' control of re-refrigeration operations, said: "Provision of stockyards and car services has naturally fallen in considerable degree to the larger and more wealthy packers who have used their advantages to effect a BERNE (Switzerland) March 31.—Russian and Jewish refugees arriving from the large Russian town of Kiev in ruins and that the population has decreased from 400,000 to 150,000. Food was obtainable only at exorbitant prices.

The refugees assert that the city was in the hands of a Bolshevik committee; that bands of Bolsheviks strolled through the streets of the city day and night, and that rifle firing was constant. The police had been replaced by the Bolsheviks, and there were executions daily. The population was living under a reign of terror.

STOCKTON, April 1.—Harry Y. Cohen, 35 years of age, was arrested at the Hotel Stockton this afternoon, upon a telegraphic warrant from San Diego, charging him with embezzlement. Cohen was traced to the hotel from the Santa Fe station here by baggage check numbers supplied by the Los Angeles police. The police here have possession of six suitcases and two large trunks which Cohen brought with him. The contents of the trunks and suitcases consisted of women's and men's wear of an expensive character, and included a lot of furs.

In 2000 Counties This Month

The Forces of the Church of Christ Will Gather To Face the Facts.

In 2000 counties in the United States the pastors and laymen of 30 great denominations will meet in conference this month.

It is the kind of conference that generals hold before a critical engagement; that business men hold before entering a new market. A conference of judgment, not emotion; a clear-eyed facing of the facts.

A Survey that Business Men Must Admire

For more than a year hundreds of workers have been quietly engaged in making a scientific survey of the mission fields, and of America county by county.

The facts developed are startling. No such picture of America's religious situation has ever before been drawn.

On the basis of these surveys thirty Protestant denominations are uniting in a Nation Wide Cooperative Campaign

Each of the thirty denominations has its own "Forward Movement" organized and officered. The Interchurch World Movement is the clearing house for all of these.

It is the agency which the churches have created to avoid duplication, to foster cooperation and make sure that every man and dollar render the utmost service possible.

The month of April will be devoted to making the facts of the survey known to America; in the week of April 25th-May 2nd, will come a united simultaneous financial campaign.

Whether You Are Inside the Church or Out To every man and every woman who loves his country, these 2000 county conferences are vitally important.

For the facts developed by this great survey show vividly what forces are at work in America—and what kind of a country this country is to be.

See that the pastor of your church appoints delegates. Any pastor can tell you the conference place and date. Or write direct to the

CALOTABS ARE BEST FOR COLDS AND INFLUENZA

Doctors Now Prescribe Calotabs, the Purified Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of influenza often lead to pneumonia and other complications. They say that every cold should receive immediate attention and that the first step in the treatment is to make sure that the liver is active. For this purpose Calotabs, the perfected, nausealess calomel tablets, are the surest, best and most agreeable laxative.

One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea, and no upsetting of the digestion and appetite. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price 35 cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs and are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.—[Advertisement]

WILSON'S NAME OUT OF PRIMARY

Georgia Petitioners Withdraw the President.

Was not Supported or Encouraged at White House.

Gen. Wood Opens His Campaign Through Ohio.

(BY A. P. MORTIMER)

ATLANTA, April 1.—The name of President Wilson, which has been entered by petition in the Georgia preferential primary, has been withdrawn by action of a number of signers of the petition.

The time limit for entries expired at noon, and official announcement of the candidates who had been certified revealed that President Wilson was not among them.

Atty.-Gen. Palmer, Rhomas E. Watson, former candidate for President on the Populist ticket, and Senator Heke Smith, are the only candidates.

President Wilson took no steps to prevent his name appearing on the Presidential primary ballot in Georgia. It was said today at the White House.

The President had until 1 o'clock Washington time, today, to act. It was understood that he did not reply to the telegram from Secretary Gardner of the Georgia Democratic State Committee asking whether he wished his name to appear on the ballot.

WILSON IGNORES THEM. A petition signed by the requisite number of Georgia Democrats, asking that the President's name be on the ballot in the Georgia primary April 20, was filed with the State committee last Monday.

It was said at the White House that the President did not authorize the use of his name, and that the telegram from Secretary Gardner was received, bringing the first news to the White House that the petition had been filed.

WOOD IN OHIO.

TOLEDO (O.), April 1.—Opening his Ohio campaign here today before a large audience, Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood said the country must return to a sane business basis and again think in millions instead of billions.

He urged national economy, removal of taxation restraints on business and the spreading of the war debt over a longer period, to the end that taxation may not be so onerous and initiative may not be strangled.

Gen. Wood and United States Senator Harding are the only Republican Presidential candidates entered in the preferential primary which will be held April 21.

SOUTH DAKOTA COUNT.

SIOUX FALLS (S. D.), April 1.—Unofficial returns from fifty-four of the sixty-four counties in the State on the general primary election of March 23 for Republican Presidential endorsement announced this afternoon by the Secretary of State at Pierre, show:

Maj.-Gen. Wood, 28,892; Gov. Lowden of Illinois, 22,441; Senator Johnson of California, 22,419. Senator Miles Polindexter of Washington polled a comparatively small vote, figures on which were not announced. No figures on the Democratic vote were announced.

Under the primary law of this State the candidate receiving the plurality of votes gets the support of South Dakota's ten delegates to the national convention.

ST. PAUL (Minn.), April 1.—A light vote is expected in the Democratic precinct primaries to be held throughout Minnesota tonight to select delegates to county conventions to be held Saturday in the eighty-six counties.

CHINESE MILITARISTS WORRY WASHINGTON.

DOMINATION INCREASES IN SOUTH: NORTH FACTION IS DEMORALIZING.

(BY A. P. MORTIMER)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—Increasing domination of the militaristic faction in Southern China has been noted here and officials are frankly worried over the outcome. The North China faction has demobilized a portion of its army, made possible by the advance of several million yen by Japan, which is regarded as significant in connection with the continued increase in strength of the military faction in the southern part of the republic.

The sudden departure from Canton of Wu Tingfang, former Chinese Minister to the United States, and one of the most prominent leaders in the anti-militaristic faction in South China, has been reported to the State Department. Wu and his son, closely identified with his father in political affairs, were said to have become disgusted with the growing strength in South China of the military party and were said to have taken with them from Canton nearly 150,000 taels of the customs surplus, which experts here said would be enough to finance another revolutionary government.

The whereabouts of Wu and his son is not known.

MISSOURI HIGH COURT BANS UNION PICKETS.

(BY A. P. MORTIMER)

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.), April 1.—The Supreme Court of Missouri ruled against the right of a labor union to picket a place of business, in an opinion handed down here today.

FEDERAL WORKERS NOT YET RAISED GET $240.

(BY A. P. MORTIMER)

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The $240 annual bonus for Federal employees who have not participated in general wage increases was restored by the Senate today in passing the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Bill.

The Senate also authorized an increase of $50,000 for the Labor Department over House figures, and refused to sustain the House resolution to sustain the subcommittee.

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

KANSAS CITY, April 1.—Kansas City bank clearings made a new high record for the month ending yesterday, amounting to $1,184,000. That is $260,000 more than in March, 1919, an increase of 22.5 per cent.

SAYS DIVORCE
WAS ALL RIGHT.Comed for Mary Pickford
Denies Collusion.Says He Investigated Matter;
Satisfied Himself.Tying of Knot Stirs Storm
Among the Clergy.

(By A. P. ROBERTS)

PREFACE (Arts). April 1.—H. A. McCarron, former chief justice of the Nevada Supreme Court and comedian, who has been in the news lately because of his alleged collusion with Mary Pickford in her divorce from Douglas Fairbanks, today declared that he had investigated the matter and was satisfied that the divorce was all right.

The action, he said, was under the terms of the "short-residence" law, which Pickford lived at Minnie, where the divorce was granted only three weeks, the lawyer, Owen Moore, he added, was to Minnie and was served with a summons and was represented at the trial, but was not personally present. Mr. McCarron declared he knew of no arrangement or collusion between Miss Pickford and Mr. Moore.

The marriage of Miss Pickford and Mr. Fairbanks has stirred up a storm among the clergy of this city and Portland, where Dr. Brougher, who officiated at the nuptials, was formerly a pastor. Rev. Thomas Jenkins of that city yesterday declared it an abomination and said it was a disgrace that the church should have had a hand in it. There are those here, however, who defend Dr. Brougher and say some of his statements are untrue, including that of Dr. Jenkins.

Rev. Charles E. Locke, pastor of the Methodist church, expressed his disapproval of the divorce, saying it was a disgrace that the church should have had a hand in it. He said that the divorce was a disgrace to the church and that the church should have no part in it.

McADOO QUILTS
"BIG FOUR."

Retires as Counsel for Pickford-Fairbanks-Griffith Combination.

According to a copyrighted article appearing yesterday in "The Daily," a New York motion picture newspaper, William O. McAdoo, former secretary of the Treasury, has retired as general counsel for the United Artists' Corporation, better known as the "Big Four" of filmdom, the combination of Mary Pickford, her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin and D. W. Griffith. The article states that Mr. McAdoo declined to discuss the matter on ethical grounds and that Oscar Price, president of the corporation, was similarly silent.

Robert P. Fairbanks, brother of Douglas Fairbanks and an executive of the Douglas Fairbanks Pictures Corporation, said last night he has heard nothing of Mr. McAdoo's resignation.

The real reason for the famous raid by Police Commissioner Burge on the premises at 516 West Third street came to light yesterday when it developed, simultaneously with the failure in Police Court of the first of the vagrancy cases, that the real quarry of the raid was a clever hotel diamond thief who stole $3000 in jewelry and cash from H. S. Cooper of Kenosha, Wis., at the Hotel Clark on the night of March 16.

The suspect, a well-known crook, masqueraded as a guest of the hotel. Before he could be arrested he checked out and the house detective was informed that his trunk was sent to the West-third-street house. A detective was put on watch and a search warrant secured. The raid by Mr. Burge and his men followed. The diamond thief was not caught, but five other persons were arrested on general principles. Mr. Burge said last night that it was he who gave the information to the house detective about the trunk going to the Third-street house. Why he did not give it to the police he did not state.

Mr. Burge apparently lost much of the interest which has hitherto characterized his efforts to show up what he describes as the rottenness of the vagrancy law. The department when the first of the cases growing out of his famous personally conducted raid fell flat before a jury in Police Judge Richardson's court yesterday.

The case was that of C. W. Wilson, accused of being a vagrant. Mr. Burge failed to secure a felony complaint against him. It was regarded as a test case for the other men arrested in the raid. Mr. Burge expressed himself as not interested. "I have turned those cases over to the police department," he said. "I will have nothing to do with them except to my testimony when they are brought before the court."

Following the acquittal of Wilson, City Prosecutor Widney and Deputy City Prosecutor Crowl, who conducted the case against Wilson, stated that an investigation of the amount of evidence now in the hands of Commissioner Burge and the police against the other five men arrested in the raid will be made today. If no new evidence is discovered against the prisoners all the remaining cases will be dismissed. Pending action to dismiss the remaining cases, Police Judge Richardson set the trials for April 8.

No evidence. Although Prosecutor Crowl placed every witness with any knowledge of the case on the stand, including Mr. Burge himself, no evidence was brought out to show that Wilson or any of the persons taken into custody had done anything to violate the laws of the city or county. The only direct evidence regarding Wilson's movements within the past few years was given by Police Detective Carroll, who stated that the defendant had served three years in the British army during the great war.

A number of games of chance and several rolls of stage money, the main part of the "evidence" secured by Commissioner Burge was not allowed to be introduced as evidence against Wilson. The games and the stage money were taken from the bottom of a trunk in Wilson's room, according to Mr. Burge's men.

H. S. Hallner, a private detective employed by a local detective agency and described as the main witness for the prosecution, failed to appear in court yesterday. When notified that he should have been in court he said he knew nothing of the case. Defense Attorney Claude Morton said that as soon as the case was called on, his wife, James Buckley and several others arrested in the raid have been dismissed. The case against Commissioner Burge for false arrest, asking $30,000 damages.

L. S. Atkinson will speak on "Transportation and Traffic" at a meeting of the Proximo Club at noon today in the Broadway Department Store Cafe.

Mr. Schultz sued Livingston for $2000, which he said he spent in trying to help the defendant out of the trouble in which he found himself after he and his brother fled to South America to evade the draft. Ben Livingston protested against payment of the claim, declaring he had previously loaned his brother-in-law money than that, at different times.

The case ended with an award of $1000 in favor of Mr. Schultz. The judgment being against Ben Livingston, his two sisters and his mother. Last summer Mrs. Schultz brought suit against Mr. Schultz for a divorce, and later in the year he fled suit against the Livingstons, declaring that they alienated the affections of his wife.

MRS. ROGERS TO MARRY WRITER.Former Wife of Attorney to be Mrs. Louis Weadock.Romance Crowns Friendship that Embraces Years.Ceremony on Sunday will be Third Wedding of Each.

Mrs. Belle Green Rogers, former wife of Earl Rogers, the attorney, will be married at 1 p. m. next Sunday, at her home, 1821 North Normandie avenue, to Louis Weadock, widely-known writer and son of George W. Weadock, prominent attorney of Detroit. Only members of the immediate families will be present at the ceremony, after which the bridal couple will leave for a brief sojourn at San Diego.

The wedding will be the third marriage of each of the principals. Mrs. Rogers and Earl Rogers were divorced in 1914. In October, 1918, she married T. Lester Blackwell, then a broker in this city and later a sales agent for a San Francisco automobile concern. Charging that less than a year after the wedding he had deserted her, she sued for divorce at San Francisco and was granted a decree February 21, 1917, resuming her former name of Rogers.

Mr. Weadock went to New York from this city a dozen years or more ago, and there attained unique prominence as a newspaper man. He was married twice, his second wife being Olla Bergere, the scenario writer. With his daughters, Cecilia and Josephine, he came West about a year ago to do work of this same sort for Douglas Fairbanks.

Because of an old family friendship formed years ago when Charles E. Van Loan, Mr. Weadock, Earl Rogers and others were members of a gifted coterie in the vicinity of the University of California, where she resides with her sons, Thorwald and Bryson and Capt. B. W. Rogers, who was an ace in the Canadian air service during the great war. The news that the old-time friendship has ripened into a romance comes as a complete surprise to practically all of the many friends of Mrs. Rogers and Mr. Weadock throughout the country.

The wedding was a simple affair, and will wear spots of clothes in keeping with the informal character of the ceremony. She is to be accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Ivan St. John. Tom McNamara, the scenario writer, will be the best man. It is understood, also, that arrangements for the wedding will be made by the city on one of the dates mentioned.

The case was that of C. W. Wilson, accused of being a vagrant. Mr. Burge failed to secure a felony complaint against him. It was regarded as a test case for the other men arrested in the raid. Mr. Burge expressed himself as not interested. "I have turned those cases over to the police department," he said. MAJOR PAGE IS GIVEN DIVORCE.Wife's Love Lost While He Led Regiment to War.Rival Local Salesman Whom Officer Calls Slacker.Scenes of Extravagant Home
Wreck Were Laid Here.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 1.—Major John Henry Page, Jr., in charge of army recruiting in San Francisco, was granted a divorce by Superior Judge Flood today from Mrs. Edna Beronice Wright Page, upon evidence that while Major Page, then a lieutenant-colonel, was leading the First Infantry, Fifth Division, in battle, William Provost, a salesman living at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, acquired the love of Mrs. Page.

Major Page testified that his wife confessed her infatuation after he had returned from the war. Among the witnesses who corroborated the story were an aunt and a cousin of Mrs. Page. Attorney Bertram L. Cadwalader, a lieutenant-colonel and a comrade-in-arms of Major Page in France, introduced in evidence letters written by Mr. Provost and Mrs. Page, that fell into the hands of Major Page.

Major Page testified that he tried to reason with his wife and told her that she could never be happy with a man she certainly could not respect, because he was a weak slacker, a coward, a draft dodger and a slacker, and had betrayed his friend. She replied, he stated, that Mr. Provost had claimed exemption from the draft at her urging and that she "would die if he should lose his affection for her."

When he returned from the war, Major Page said, Mrs. Page had spent all he sent her and the money he had in the bank when he left, $5180, in less than a year, and that she accused him of "loving money" more than he loved his wife. He said she was cruel, indifferent, irritable and had failed with everything he did. When they arrived in Los Angeles, Major Page said, Mrs. Page drove up to meet them in the Page automobile, which had been left in his keeping by Mrs. Page.

Major Page said he supposed Mr. Provost a loyal friend and suspected nothing until his wife told him, in December, 1918, of her infatuation for the other man. He said she left him in San Francisco several times, on various pretexts, to be with Mr. Provost in Los Angeles.

The United States Shipping Board, as such, was a failure, H. M. Robinson, noted banker and ex-member of the Shipping Board, declared last night at a dinner given by the World-Travelers of Los Angeles, at the Mission Cafe. He declared that he does not know a single person who believes that the government operation of ships had been or could be a success.

"Merchant vessels now owned by the American government will probably be sold," Mr. Robinson said. He added that there are several plans being considered. The most practical one and the one that will probably be adopted is to sell the ships at the price that it would cost to build them, which is approximately $155 per ton gross weight, he said. The money thus realized will probably be used to build more ships, he said, but emphasized the fact that the American government can never control merchant vessels effectively.

Mr. Robinson said the harbor of Los Angeles has wonderful possibilities, and he believes that it can be constructed to accommodate all of the ships that the merchants of this country tributary to Los Angeles, he said, is much greater than most people believe and he said he hoped to show that it was better for inland shipping to use Los Angeles Harbor than to ship to Seattle, San Francisco or northern ports. He urged the World-Travelers to push their work.

Short talks were also made by Maynard McFie, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Tom Gun, Chinese aviator. Mr. McFie said the Chamber of Commerce is anxious to assist in any way possible to make Los Angeles a world port. Mr. Gun is here en route to New York with a commission to make purchases for the government of Southern China. He declared last night that American merchants do not pay sufficient attention to Chinese trade, and urged that attention be sent to the Orient be trained men who understand their lines.

In Exposition Here of Stupendous Reclamation Project.

E. C. LaRue, Government Engineer,

He told the League of the Southwest, in convention here yesterday, that the Colorado River project, vast as it is, is entirely feasible and presents no insurmountable obstacles. In the picture Mr. LaRue is pointing out on the rotogravure map drawn for The Times by Charles H. Owens, the site for a mammoth reservoir at the junction of the Green and Grand rivers, one of the most stupendous and attractive features of the project to harness the river.

LEAGUE CONVENTION OPENS HERE.

Twenty years ago, when the city was but a small town, its water supply was inadequate. The building of the aqueduct, he pointed out, has not only taken care of the demands of a fast-growing city but has also attracted the growth and prosperity of the great industries.

LEAGUE'S AIMS.
The B. B. Von Kienbaum, president of the league, expressed appreciation of the welcome extended to the delegates and briefly of the organization and its purposes. The league, he said, was at unity of action to promote the development of the Southwest as a whole, is nonpolitical and has no connection with any special interest.

He emphasized the "united front" of the league and predicted that the Southwest great prosperity, and population and a strong sense of real Americanism.

The Southwest as one vast community, with its boundaries those of nature, was described by Luther G. Brown as a region where the people are just beginning to realize their riches, where vast resources can be utilized jointly by effort leading to greater production and more homes.

The products of the Imperial Valley, alone, only one unit of the great Southwest, he declared, is not to be benefited by conserving the river's waters. Mr. Brown said the amount is as much as a single acre as the entire cost of the project.

FOR UNITED EFFORT.
Without apology, without mincing words, Mr. Brown then vigorously declared that this is no time and the place for the introduction of local disputes, for little controversies between communities.

One community sends a committee to Washington," he said, "then another community sends a committee to see that the first committee doesn't get what it is after. The committee follows. None of them accomplishes anything, but they spend more time and money maintaining why they have failed.

We continue to send committees and chambers of commerce keep on sending resolutions. At the time, the river is pouring its waters into the gulf. Resolutions won't dam the Colorado River.

We had an instance of that in Los Angeles. We adopted resolutions favoring a highway from Los Angeles to the Imperial Valley. Last year ago and we kept on sending resolutions. In the meantime, San Diego went ahead and built a road, so now we drive by San Diego when we want to go to Imperial.

We are heirs to the greatest fortune on the American continent. Let us not fight over the spoils of heirship until we have taken measures to secure them. Every acre that is cultivated by the waters of the Colorado River will be of benefit to all the communities and to all the country.

We are united in desiring the consummation of the project. We want to produce 1,500,000 bushels from the revived lands. All we want to develop 2,000,000 bushels and reap the benefits of it. The way to get it is to work together. Here in the Southwest is opportunity for a prosperous community of 10,000,000 people.

ENGINEERING FACTS.
E. C. LaRue, government engineer, who surveyed the Colorado River and wrote a report that is the standard of authority, strikingly presented the engineering phases of the project, with the aid of maps and stereoscopic slides. One of the maps projected was that drawn by Charles H. Owens for The Times printed in double-page form in the rotogravure section of The Times last Sunday.

Mr. LaRue stated at the outset that the project presents no insurmountable obstacles and that it is entirely feasible from an engineering standpoint. The river, from its source of the Green in the lofty Grand River Mountains, is 1700 miles long. The lowest third of the river is the most difficult to harness. The upper basin is a labyrinth of canyons.

Although the basin is now traversed by four continental railroads, only 500,000 people dwell there. Mr. LaRue characterized it as almost a desert territory. He declared that 90 per cent of the flow of the river comes from above the line between Arizona and California. Conservation and control, therefore, must be sought by harnessing the waters far up the river.

VAST POSSIBILITIES.
Mr. LaRue said the cost of harnessing the waters would be im-about $100,000,000 and that the ultimate development would irrigate 8,000,000 acres of land and generate 2,000,000 horse power. Vast areas of timber, rich deposits of coal and other minerals, railroad and highway development and other assets of enormous value would be opened up or created.

Slides of views taken by Mr. LaRue gave a vivid impression of the magnitude of the enterprise and the grandeur of the scenery. Pictures taken of the upper reaches of the river, 5000 feet above snow level, showed great masses of snow and ice, the snowbanks being perpetual. In showing pictures of the magnificent Grand Canyon and Virgin River Canyon walls, Mr. LaRue explained that the building of dams would in no way mar the natural beauties.

Profile maps were also used by the engineer and a map illustrating the variation of the flow of the uncontrolled river. He said that if the proposed impounding reservoirs had been in existence in 1917, the flood which sent 143,000 second feet past Yuma would have been reduced to 28,000 feet.

ADDRESS BY WHISTLER.
John T. Whistler of Denver, engineer adviser of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau and formerly in charge of investigations for the reclamation service of the Colorado River basin, spoke on "Control and Conservation of the Colorado River Floods."

Mr. Whistler's address was based largely upon a report to the chief of construction of the reclamation service on investigations and studies made by Whistler, assisted by W. H. Parkhill, engineer in the service.

That with 10,000,000 feet of water in storage in the Green and Grand river basins now proven feasible, a sufficient irrigation supply is provided for the maximum future irrigation development of all land physically possible to reach in the Lower California River basin, with the full irrigation development either with or without storage in the basins of the upper tributaries, was a statement by Mr. Whistler in his introduction.

He declared that with the storage plans proposed a policy may be instituted permitting and encouraging the fullest irrigation development of the water supply of the Colorado River, not only in each State interested, but from any and all of its tributaries, provided only that storage construction is kept up with irrigation requirements. Such storage for irrigation, he said, would provide a large degree of flood protection.

BY CANAL EXPERT.
An illuminating address on the physical aspects of the Lower Colorado was made by C. E. Grunsky, Panama Canal commissioner. He told of the erratic conduct of the river and its changes in course since it emptied into the ocean at a point far north of the present head of the Gulf of California.

There should be no delay in constructing reservoirs to impound the waters by the government, he said, adding that the need for such storage is pressing. He concluded his talk by saying that the building of the reservoirs should not be left to private interests, but should be undertaken by the States in co-operation with the government. He said the storage should be under State control because the best and most complete development of the State's water resources will thereby be assured and because the State will also be put in police control of the stream. The various problems connected with the project, he urged, should receive early consideration by all the States of the Southwest.

Every Third Child is Under-Nourished

Competent authorities state that one out of every three children in this country is under-nourished. A generation ago sturdy, husky health was the rule among children. Today we find an appalling number who are nervous, delicate, sickly.

Furthermore the cases of under-nourishment are by no means confined to the poorer classes. Children can "eat their fill" and yet be under-nourished, if the food is "skimpy" in nutriment value or hard to digest.

If your child is under-nourished and if you fail to investigate and take steps to remedy the cause it will mean that the condition will become chronic and that he will be handicapped through life, instead of growing to vigorous and sturdy manhood.

The Remedy for Mal-Nutrition

The right kind of food—food that is rich in nutriment and easy to digest, is the remedy for under-nourishment.

Among all foods, bread is the one which should first claim your attention, in this connection. Bread is eaten three times each day. This alone makes it of first importance. But, again bread is the only food in common use which, when made of the right ingredients and in the right way—can become a perfect all-round food—a complete balanced ration—containing all the elements of nourishment required by the body, and in their proper proportions.

Six Essential Food Elements

The human body requires six essential food elements. These are as follows:

1. Proteins, for tissue building.
2. Carbohydrates, for energy.
3. Fat, for heat and energy.
4. Minerals, for bone building and general toning.
5. Vitamines, to produce growth.
6. Water.

HOLSUM A Perfect Food

Our HOLSUM Bread is today made with the above scientific facts fully in mind.

These loaves are made with milk. White flour is not a complete food. Milk gives back to the flour all that it lost when the bran was removed: namely, its fats, mineral salts, and vitamins. Bread made with milk—and scientifically processed and baked so as to become fully and easily digestible—thus becomes a complete food.

HOLSUM Bread is not only made with milk, but every other ingredient is of the highest quality obtainable. We analyze every material we buy. We know food-values instead of guessing at them.

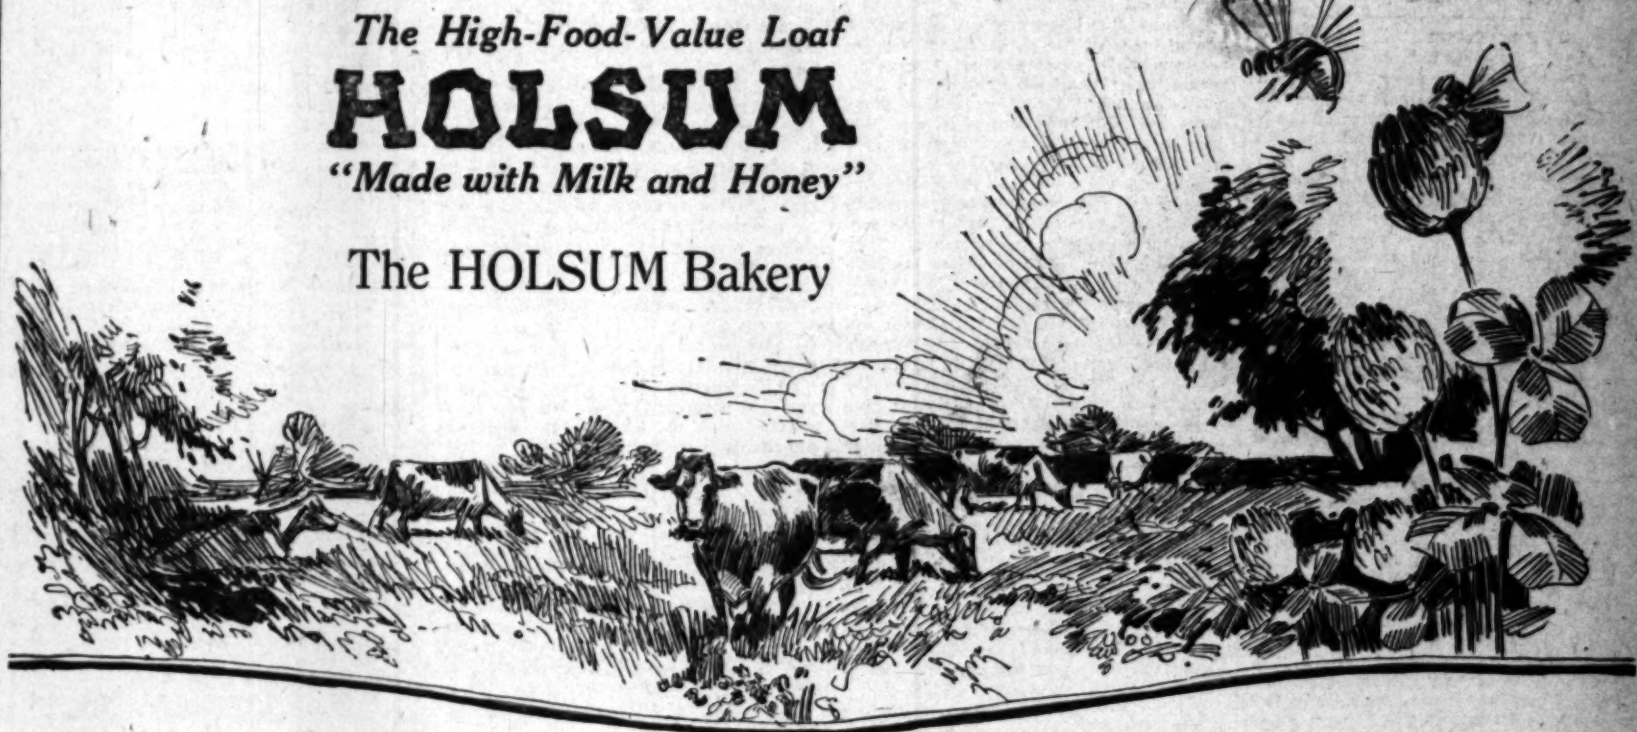

We can confidently assert that HOLSUM is packed brim full of nourishment. You could live on such bread alone, and never be under-nourished. Give our bread to your children three times a day. Urge them to eat a lot of it. It will yield maximum nourishment for its weight and volume and if eaten plentifully will solve the problem of mal-nutrition.

GOING UP.

A telescope with a ten-foot lens—the largest in the world—is to be set up at Vancouver. It is getting so that it needs a powerful glass to sight the high cost of living.

PAROLE OR PAY ROLL.

The government pay roll at Washington carries 250,000 more names than before the war and nobody wants to let go. The fact is that a lot of patriots on the pay roll ought to be on parole instead.

THE MESSAGE MAN.

It's funny, but in all this talk about getting a message to Mars nobody seems to seriously suggest the idea of putting a two-cent stamp on it and handing it to Postmaster-General Burleson. What is he for, anyhow? Or is it possible we are in a hurry for the answer?

THE LUNCH HOUR.

The lunch hour is coming back. On account of stiff prices and crowded cafeterias many stenographers as well as office men are carrying their noon refreshments direct from the home nest. Sandwiches built by the wife or mother are declared to be more filling than those passed over the marble slab at the drug store. Likewise they are apt to be cheaper.

THE CAMELS.

Gov. Edwards of New Jersey is to address the gathering of the Order of Camels in Milwaukee. There is a suspicion that these camels are so named because of their ability to go several days without water, although not so abstemious with the brew that used to make Milwaukee famous. Much of their time is spent in seeking cases in a bone-dry desert land, but not for the sake of the water therein. They hope to disclose a brewery.

PICKING WINNERS.

If Gov. Leiden could be persuaded to accept the Vice-Presidential nomination on the ticket with Herbert Hoover there would be a combination that every American should be able to approve. There would be a competent business executive at either end—no matter what happened. Furthermore, the social side of the Leiden would find a congenial Washington without needing the White House to start from. There wouldn't be much politics in the ticket, but there would be an abundance of popularity. The people would feel that they were having a look-in, at any rate.

THE ROSE MARKET.

Another thing we have to worry about is the trouble in getting attar of roses from Bulgaria. Americans do not wish to rely upon the onion for their perfume, but the Bulgarian rose market has been shot to pieces. During the war the flowers were neglected and much of the acreage was put into grain. Now there is a demand for the attar and the demand rose of Bulgaria is standing a comback. The rose fields are at least twenty thousand acres short and syndicates are being formed to at once restore the industry. With the attar going at the rate of about a dollar a drop nobody but a packer or a movie queen can afford to bathe in it.

QUITTING THE JOB.

After a full strike fever has broken out again. Perhaps the most conspicuous spot is Chicago, where the municipal employees are walking out in various departments. The City Council has authorized the expenditure of $4,000,000 more than the municipal revenues in order to increase the pay of those working for the city; but nobody seems to be satisfied. The firemen were demanding a flat increase of $300 a year. The Aldermen allowed $195, although the minimum pay is already $180 a year. Now the firemen threaten to resign in a body and leave the city without proper protection from the flames. Garbage teamsters are demanding $9 and $10 a day and 100 food inspectors have quit. Now would be a good time for Chicago to find out how much excess baggage the city has been carrying. It is astonishing the number of men who can be dispensed with when it comes to a show-down. Most municipal departments are cluttered up with nonessentials.

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

Lloyd George calls the attention of Americans to the fact that Ramses de Valera, self-styled President of an Irish republic, is not only using the same arguments, but the same words, as Jefferson Davis when that leader was advocating and defending the secession of the South. Members of Congress who favored a resolution approving the creation of an Irish republic had ancestors who died to prevent the southland from having a little self-determination of its own. The British Premier might have added that there are alleged American statesmen who quote George Washington as a warning against establishing alliances and fight against American participation in a League of Nations and yet are always ready with their little old resolution of sympathy or denunciation whenever there is upheaval or turmoil in any other land. Practically all of those who oppose the League covenant are insistent on interfering with England's policy in Ireland. Where is the consistency?

HOOVER AND THE PLATFORM.

"If the Republican party—with the independent element of which I am naturally affiliated—adopts a forward-looking, liberal, constructive platform on the treaty and on the economic issues," writes Mr. Hoover to California Republicans. "I will give it my entire support." He adds that, "While I do not and will not myself seek the nomination, if it is felt that the issues necessitate it and if it is demanded of me, I cannot refuse service."

This communication has been read with regret by Democratic leaders in a number of States; for they were hoping for Hoover to pull them out of the hole. It definitely puts at rest all doubts as to his political affiliations and clears the way for an active campaign all over the country to send to Chicago delegates who are in sympathy with a government by the people, as opposed to one by politicians.

The only criticism which the Times makes of Mr. Hoover's statement is that qualifying "If." The rank and file of the Republican party have given evidence of full confidence in Mr. Hoover; and it is the turn of Mr. Hoover to express a confident feeling that they will give him a solid constructive platform on which to make the campaign.

There has never been a time in the nation's history when the Republican party has failed in its duty in a crisis. There has never been a shifting plank in its platform. The split in the party in 1912 was the result of too much prosperity. Roosevelt and Taft would never have been brought into opposition if the country's safety or its future had been menaced. As the years pass it becomes apparent that it was a question of temperament rather than of policy that separated them. When a vital issue arose in 1912 their old differences were forgotten and they worked in harmony.

This year there are clear issues before the country. The expenses of the Federal government have become so great that if its bills for the present year were to all be presented at once there is not enough money in the country, gold and currency combined, to pay them. No country can continue to prosper under such a Federal tax burden. Mr. Hoover knows business, he knows finance; and the people want Hoover to put system and efficiency into the Federal government. He can rest assured that the platform will not restrict him.

Never were the foreign relations of the country in so chaotic a condition. There is a lack of system in the White House and of vision in Congress. The people desire to see amicable relations restored with all other countries, but without a surrender of national honor or national interests. The platform will be as broad as the man.

There has been too much conversation with Mexico; too many communications have been written and there has been too little action. Hoover knows something of the things an American has a right to expect of his government when in a foreign country. He knows where to put his hand on the weak spot in our Mexican policy. The Mexicans are well aware that he knows; and his election will itself have a great restraining influence on the Mexican hand. He will never need write two letters on the same subject.

Hoover says he believes the Republican party can render a transcendent service to the country by deciding to join the League of Nations, but with reservations fully protecting our sovereignty and helping get the League on a working basis. He has no sympathy with the "bitter-enders." Neither have the rank and file of the Republican party. Public opinion will bring a sufficient pressure on the Republican convention to insure a plank embodying those sentiments.

Perhaps Mr. Hoover takes the opposition of some of the old-timers in the Republican ranks seriously. They have been a long time at the game, and he must not be surprised that they ask of those whom they will later support to win their spurs before wearing them. Some of them are professional politicians who are a hindrance and not a help to the party; but there are others who have simply sought to prove Hoover's mettle as well as the sentiment of the country towards him. They probably are gratified to find how the Hoover sentiment in the party has grown stronger under opposition.

The Times believes that Mr. Hoover will be nominated, with or without California's delegation. But it would be a lasting reproach upon the Republican party in the State to elect delegates pledged to any other candidate. Inertia is the only menace. But two days remain for registration and there are 250,000 persons eligible to vote in the May primaries who have not yet registered. If you believe in Hoover and desire to see him nominated and elected, hurry that you get to the polls. DO IT NOW, WHILE THE THOUGHT IS FRESH IN YOUR MIND.

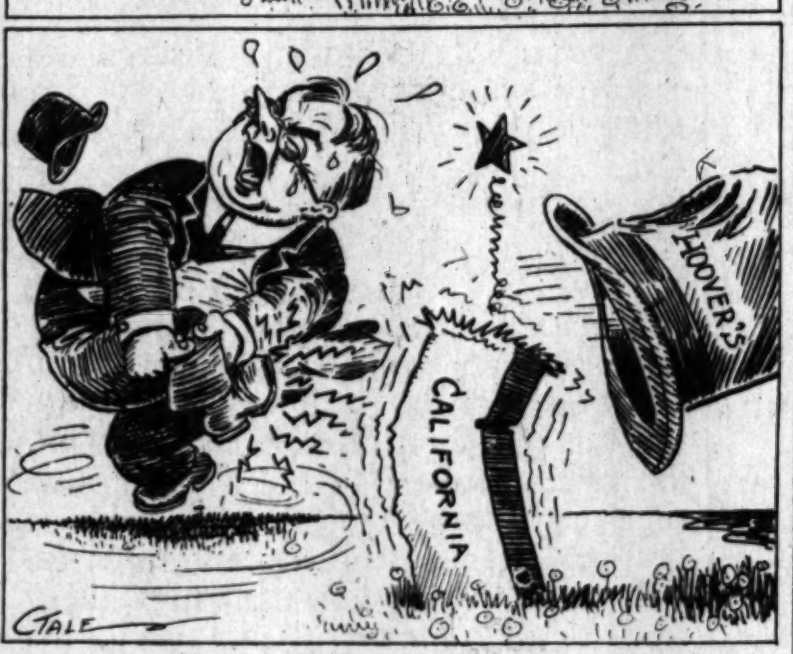

The ground swell for Hoover is rising as a result of his letter. It will sweep him into the White House. And his own State, California, must and will not fall him at Chicago on the 7th of June.

MELTING POTS.

Over two-thirds of the population of Chicago is of foreign birth or parentage. There are 495,785 Germans, which is more than twice as many as may be found in Stuttgart. There are more Jews than there are in Jerusalem. There are nearly 300,000 Poles—not including those of the telephone variety. There are 200,000 Russians, many of them full-whiskered Bolsheviks. There are 173,000 sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle—and therefore many buyers of Sinn Féin bonds. The colored brother is also among those present. There are 144,000 of him, in fact. There are some white Americans, of course. You have to have native sons in a community that is a hundred years old, and all of them cannot move away. Chicago is a humberger of a melting pot, but as an American city it is two-thirds outlander. No wonder the politicians have to struggle up to the foreign vote. Also it was quite possible for Chicago to have a Mayor of pro-German tendencies. With a population of 2,584,827, Chicago is likely to take rank as the third city of the world. As a mixer it may surpass London itself.

It would be interesting to know the proportionate number of men and women using the reflections of the Broadway store windows as they pass. It has been claimed that women mostly use this means to primp up a bit, but "we ha' our doots."

Such an Innocent-Looking Hat, Too!

PASADENA PAYS TRIBUTE.

It is strange that among all the historical tributes paid to the heroes of the human race no spectacle or pageant has as yet been staged to visualize what the Pilgrim Fathers accomplished through their service to mankind for the glory of the Creator. Yet next to Easter the greatest resurrection day was April 5, 1620, the day when religious enlightenment rose from the sepulcher of medievalism.

Perhaps, then, it is fitting that from Pasadena, the Crown City of California, should spring the first worthy attempt to pay that particular and picturesque honor to the memory of Plymouth Rock that so far has never been afforded adequate presentation. It is also in harmony with the spirit of the subject that the tribute take the form of a memento, biblical in nature, reverent in treatment, portraying the work of the Pilgrim Fathers epitomized through the Sermon on the Mount.

The full-blown flower of Americanism turns back to grace the hard, dry seed from which it has drawn its fragrance and its beauty. Pasadena calls the sons and daughters of the West together in honor of the fathers and mothers of the first New England colony. Birth and from meet. So from the pen of a Pasadena writer, through the services of a company of local artists, in the world's most appropriate setting for displaying such a pageant, a new number will be added to the list of religious dramas and morality pantomime that started from the "Everyman" of the Elizabethan era and reached its apex in our own California Mission Play.

By Elizabeth Jones's contribution to this field of religious drama, the Pasadena play for the honor of their city and our common Christianity, the theme, the motif is one that must inspire all who love their country, have not forgotten its origin and have faith in its destiny.

In the pride of our present unprecedented achievements, in the self-confidence born of our boundless prosperity we can afford for a breathing space to turn back our thoughts and through such a memento-play as Pasadena has prepared to refresh our memories as to the source whence all our modern blessings have come to us—to see in fancy once more the Pilgrim Fathers on the rock—to feel once more in spirit the immortal philosophy of the Sermon on the Mount.

MERCHANT VISITORS.

Twenty-two British department-store merchants are to visit the United States to study our methods. The American department store is unique in its service to the public and when an American firm opened in London in 1912 it created consternation among its English competitors. Its advertisements in the daily papers alone proved an innovation, for tradition had kept this class of advertising exclusive to the illustrated weeklies and magazines prior to that time. And when it opened up rest rooms, play rooms, nurseries and capped these lures for mothers with full exchange privileges consternation was complete.

Until then English stores had their patrons pretty well trained. The English woman was expected to know exactly what she wanted and her fancy was required to stay put. Exchanging a purchase in an English store was almost unthinkable and called for a court-martial on the customers whose caprice astonished and shocked the merchant. English stores expected their American rival to go bankrupt on the exchange privilege alone—but instead watched it grow amazingly on satisfied customers. Moreover, the daily paper advertising of special bargains drew the crowds in face of the fact that merchants had declared women never read the newspapers. Brilliantly lit window displays at night were another extravagant American innovation. English stores had always somber-ly put up their shutters at closing time; but now their stores are as gorgeously lighted as our own and remain unshuttered on the Sabbath to boot, a matter that caused ire in the rigid Sabbatarians over there.

Los Angeles will welcome the visiting British merchants in May and they will find here some of the finest department stores in the country. Travelers who have shopped in the fashionable malls of the capitals of the world have declared our Los Angeles stores to be second to none.

A HARD LOSER.

"The nation has already suffered sufficiently from public officials who constantly are running round with chips on their shoulders." This editorial comment by the Daily Journal of Flint, Mich., was occasioned by what the Journal terms a "snub" given by Senator Johnson to the Board of Commerce of that city. Johnson was campaigning in Michigan and Flint was one of his objective points. The Journal recites that the Board of Commerce invited the California Senator to deliver a luncheon address, a courtesy which it extends to all important public officials visiting the city. Something of the Los Angeles booster spirit seems to have permeated Flint.

Senator Johnson's political manager accepted the invitation on his chief's behalf. But when Senator Johnson arrived in Flint he learned that the straw vote of the Board of Commerce had been taken a couple of days before and that Gen. Wood had a large majority over all. When a committee arrived at his hotel to escort him to the luncheon, where more than 200 guests were assembled, he declined to attend, saying that he never sat in a game where the dealer stacked the deck.

Surprise was expressed in Flint that one campaigning for the Presidency should be so maladroit. The Journal says that "Reverend hundred men and women at the Commerce Board function were disappointed. Some of them were Johnson supporters who do not relish the stand the Senator took, nor will it be easy for them to reconcile his attitude with the fact that a man big enough to become the nation's Chief Executive must be broad enough to overlook petty or fancied personal grievances."

The Times regrets to see a California Senator making so sorry an exhibition of himself as a hard loser.

SOUND AMERICAN CREED.

We believe in the preservation of American institutions as defined by the founders of this republic.

We believe that the privileges of American citizenship carry with them corresponding responsibilities.

We believe that all who enjoy the privileges must share the responsibilities.

We believe that the rule of the majority established through representative government is the only sound basis for action.

We believe that every man is entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

We believe that universal education is the cornerstone of progress.

We believe in equality of opportunity for every man to improve his position in life according to his ability and willingness to work.

We believe in the largest measure of individual liberty in all things consistent with the general welfare.

We believe that patriotism is a continuing duty.

We believe that these self-evident facts demand and should receive from every man in America

APRIL.

With April comes the feeling that winter's hit the ceiling and spring is here; we are not always freeing or catching cold and sneezing, and flu germs disappear. The winter's grim and dreary, it makes us sad and weary, it fills our bones with aches; but April is enchanting and we begin our planning and planning and rakes. The winter's knell is tolling and naught is more consoling than the breath of spring; there's solace in its breezes and men are simply cheery who to no end the promise of a summer. The tumbler is tumbling, the bumblebees are bumbling, the grass is getting green; this fact appeals to reason; there is no better season for burning than April, for it is a hummer, she is the cheerful comer who gets the welcome sign; though sometimes wet and windy, inclined to raise a shindy, her curves are mostly fine. She shows that winter's ended, for she is not attended by snow and ice and sleet; with cold she's never stung us and so she lands among us with her queenly feet. WALT MASON.

THE GIRLS DIDN'T.

Montclair's calm and quietude was broken in upon today by the report that the young women of that sedate town had taken to wearing trousers and that they were flaunting them openly in the street, at that.

"Look at those two," exclaimed a resident of the place to a friend, a stranger. Sure enough; it looked as though the young women were wearing "them." Below their very short skirts were straight-up-and-down things that looked, for all the world, like pdp's pants.

The inspection revealed the fact that they were not "pants"; that they were heavy, long arctic overcoats, which were unbuckled, flying loose that-way, with tops turned over they looked—well, different. [New York correspondent Pittsburgh Dispatch.]

SOUL STUFF.

By the Foothill Philosopher.

Let's talk about God awhile. The fact that we may know nothing about this staggering subject should not hinder the discussion, for we talk about everything else and yet know nothing of anything. Of course, when I say, "Let us talk about God," I am taking a slightly unfair advantage of my audience, for I really mean, "Let me talk about him and let the reader listen through his eyes, if he cares to do so." After all, the printed page is necessarily more tolerant than an auditorium filled with a lecturer and a crowd of people, for, in the lecture hall, if a listener becomes disgusted with the orator or his sentiments and boldly leaves the place he is made to feel that he has been discourteous, notwithstanding that those who make him feel this way are the ones who themselves are weary of the speech and resent the orator's course of preaching by the one leaving the room. However, anyone can, after having read the first paragraph of an article, throw the paper aside without being accused of impoliteness or of disturbing the writer of the article or any of his readers.

All students of religions, philosophers and adepts in their conceptions of God include the idea of force or forces with various attributes or qualities. Now, the writer cannot reconcile himself to the thought that the Infinite is composed of many forces, powers and intelligences. If God is One, how can He (or it) be many? The fact that man conceives of variety is, to the writer, only a proof that the unity of Being is all-inclusive, comprehending every idea of differentiation. All forces, it has been contended, act from centers, and it has also been said that these forces, radiating from various centers, converge, concentrate at certain points which, in turn, become centers from which other or similar forces flow equally in all directions. Granting this to be true, what is the logical conclusion? Simply this: That since there is no vacuum (or no conceivable vacuum) and since these supposed forces are constantly being radiated and constantly converging at every assumed point, which cannot possibly be proved excepting on the basis of other assumptions equally unprovable.

It is because the Foothill Philosopher believes in life's unity, because he does not believe that there is any point at which power and intelligence exist in greater proportion than in any other point, that he cannot become deeply interested in fetishism, spiritism or in that cult which in one breath speaks of life's unity and in the next breath speaks of something not in harmony with unity, at one moment speaks of truth as being absolute and the next moment speaks of error. Fetishism sets up its idols—wooden, human or intellectual idols—and declares: God is manifesting Himself especially here. "A wicked and perverse generation seek a sign," said a great teacher. But God refuses to be localized. And yet, after all, the pantheists and the polytheists, seeing God in nature and in special forms of nature, are probably nearer the truth than those monotheists who have made for themselves an anthropomorphic God, a God in human image and yet a God who although Himself self-untouched by the actions and thoughts of His creatures, still holds His creatures responsible for their thoughts and actions and their beliefs or disbelief in Him.

The spiritist (or spiritualist), who, broadly speaking, is found in most churches and cults and who believes in myriads of individualities does not usually trouble himself to locate whether the soul is a very part of God or whether God created the soul from nothing. If the soul is of God, then the soul can never be greater nor less than it is—it is power, it is neither birth nor death nor change, since God is of necessity eternal and changeless.

On the other hand, if the soul was created from nothing (a postulate unacceptable to reason), then its creation is a very hazy thing, for its Creator and man would have little hope of immortality. Of these two theories, that of the soul's eternal co-existence with God and that of the soul's creation by God, the latter is as well as being the most pleasing. Yet the average spiritualist, who probably believes in the soul's eternal connection with the Godhead and its unity of essence with God, still inconsistently speaks of its passing from one plane or state of life to another and of its return to earth with messengers, albeit these messengers utter no words in noises produced on tables and chairs and other idiotic phenomena. The spiritualist speaks of the soul that has gone "over there," forgetting that "under there" is but a term, just as "up there" is but a term, and "in there" are terms which are used because man cannot yet comprehend eternal presence, cannot yet appreciate the fact that life is not divided in time or space.

REGISTRATION'S
END TOMORROW.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

You Must Act Before Sunday if You Desire to Cast Ballot for Hoover.

If you are a resident of California and you want to aid in making Herbert Hoover President of the United States you must register today or tomorrow.

Registration for the Presidential primaries in May will close tomorrow night. The offices of the Registrar of Voters at the Hall of Records and City Hall will be open until 10 o'clock tonight and midnight tomorrow night.

The only pledged Hoover delegates will be on the Republican ballot. To make sure of voting this ticket you must express yourself as a Republican by preference at the time you register.

The Attorney-General has given an opinion that those who have not stated a preference for the Republican party are, nevertheless, entitled to receive a Republican ticket when they go to vote in the primary. But this decision very probably will be contested in the higher courts.

To make certain of an opportunity to vote for Hoover delegates, therefore, register today or tomorrow and state your preference to be Republican.

Friends of Mrs. Guy Barham will be pained to learn of her serious illness. She was taken sick on Sunday and is now at the California Hospital. Her condition is cause for much alarm to her family.

By Mrs. Booth.

Mrs. Claud Booth is giving a bridge tea tomorrow afternoon in honor of Mrs. Margaret Reed of Chicago and for Misses Viola and Florence Jones, who are returning shortly to Europe. They have been in California the past five years, but formerly divided their time between London and Paris. Mrs. Booth will have twenty guests.

By Mrs. Reynolds.

Mrs. Wiley G. Reynolds of Jackson, Mich., who has been so afflicted since coming here early in the winter, was last evening hostess at a dinner dance at the Hotel Alexandria. Her table was centered with a basket of pink roses, and plates were set for Dr. and Mrs. James W. Heustis, Mr. and Mrs. William Jerome Toomey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ellsworth, Mrs. Garland Buckingham, Mrs. Kimball and Mr. Richard Ferris.

Farewell Affair.

In honor of Mrs. Nels P. Salling, who is soon to return to her summer home in Anderson, Ind., Mrs. Mason V. Hunt gave an afternoon tea with cards and music. The affair was held at the W. R. Bacon home in Glendale, overlooking the Arroyo Seco. Flowers in lavender and yellow brightened the house. Among the guests were Mrs. Philip H. Weinmann, N. Mendonhall, J. L. Kilgore, May Redden, J. W. Cranston, Marcus Dunham, Russ, Leslie Whately, Bacon, John S. Vossburg, Cliff P. Finch, Carl E. Zimmerman, George C. Crocker, L. R. Terrill, Jeffery, T. Farre and Miss Ella Glover. Corinne Thoroldsen and Etta V. McCullus. Most of these are from the East.

By Miss Forre.

Miss Louise Forre is planning to give a luncheon party next Monday in honor of Miss Julia Hayward, who is to marry Mr. Charles Thomas Jr. on April 13.

Returns North.

Mrs. Raymond A. Perry and her little daughter, Althea Perry, of Oakland, who motored down and have been guests of Mrs. Joseph D. Radford for several parties, returned home yesterday, taking with them Mr. John H. Rich, the portrait painter, who has been commissioned to paint a portrait of Mrs. Perry and her little girl. Mr. Rich's engagement to Miss Helen Wood of Pasadena was announced last week.

For Mrs. Doherty.

Mrs. Edward Laurence Doherty is to be honored guest at a large luncheon for her mother, Mrs. J. Edward Bell, at the Hotel del Coronado, on Saturday, April 10, at the Doherty ranch at Beverly Hills.

By Dr. and Mrs. Hogan.

Dr. and Mrs. Garrett Lansing Hogan are to entertain at dinner on Thursday evening and are later going to the charity ball at the Hotel Alexandria. In their party will be Miss Ruth Gordon, Miss Dolly Payne, Miss Nanette Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Chappell, M. and Mrs. Romaine L. Hogan, Messrs. Frank McGarry, Stephen Kerckhoff and Van Hogan. Mrs. Romaine Hogan, who has just returned from Macao, Ga., will assist Dr. and Mrs. Hogan.

Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stebbins of St. Paul, Minn., who have been at the Hotel del Coronado, are at the Hotel Alexandria for a few days en route to Del Monte.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Robbins are in Del Monte, as are Mr. and Mrs. O. Keck of Pasadena.

Mrs. Walker Kamm of San Francisco is here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward David Roberts, and her sister, Mrs. Roberts Kamm.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Preuss and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Kennell left yesterday for a fishing trip in Northern California.

Mrs. Erasmus Wilson has returned from San Francisco, where she has been visiting the past three weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Julian Wilcox (Constance Britt Barmore) are in San Francisco on their honeymoon trip.

Miss Debra Baldwin is in Piedmont for the Easter vacation, a house guest of Miss Isabelle Avila.

Millinery

Beautiful Easter hats in profusion, direct from New York and Paris importers, are on display.

Picturesque Leghorns—gaily trimmed with flowers, grasses and ribbon; faced with soft tones of Georgette crepe.

Floral Turbans—of all varieties and colors—Chinese blue, old rose, the glad red, buttercup yellow—these are only a few.

The Raffia Suggestions—are popular—raffia enhances the brilliancy of the hat; either composing the brim, or trimmed with clever designs. Unique turbans are, many of them, made entirely of this new idea.

Large and Small Black Transparent Hats—of hair and tulle, with cellophane combinations—and the wee dancing hat of maline, all demand recognition and admiration.

Tailored Effects—of smart wing trimmed burnt Goose, Glycerine Ostrich and iridescent Quills—reflect a distinction and dignity all their own—at popular prices.

"WE HAVE NEVER FOUGHT WOMEN & CHILDREN"

Herbert Hoover

The American Friends Service Committee, 20 South Twelfth Street, Philadelphia, representing the Quakers of America, has assumed entire responsibility of feeding the undernourished children of Germany, in addition to their general relief work in France, Serbia, Vienna, Poland and the Baltic provinces.

Appeal for German Children

The Friends are working in close co-operation with the European Children's Fund, which is giving one supplementary meal each day to nearly 3,000,000 children in nine countries of Central and Eastern Europe. The Quakers will follow the same methods in Germany. An extra meal is given daily to those children who are shown, by medical examination, to require additional food. The work is carried on without distinction of a religious or a political character.

"Gravest Food Crisis Will Be in March, April & May"

(Cable from Friends Unit, Jan. 30, 1920)

There are today 10,000,000 undernourished children in Germany. A single meal costs 5 cents. To feed 1,000,000 children six months, January to June, until the next harvest, will cost $9,000,000.

Special work planned for children's hospitals and children's homes will require an additional $3,000,000.

The Friends pay for personnel, office and overhead expenses. The European Children's Fund, of which Herbert Hoover is Chairman, provides out of a special fund all expenses of transportation.

Every dollar given in America means a dollar's worth of food in Germany. American Quakers are supervising the distribution of this food.

In appealing for funds to provide food for undernourished children in Europe at the present time, Herbert Hoover said:

"Last year the American people spent literally billions of dollars in saving the whole of Europe from famine. The present cry is but an echo of that which then existed. We cannot allow our greatness to be marred by a failure to meet this last remaining call upon our hearts."

Athletes Deserve Support, Says Bob Weaver.

Organizations Boost Plans to Raise Funds.

Experts to be Sent to Belgium Games.

Representation on the Olympic Games team will be sent to Antwerp from California in July was announced yesterday when plans for the important programme of the local Olympic Games Committee were announced by Robert S. Weaver, president.

Many of the best athletes in the country, all of them connected with organizations affiliated with the Olympic Games, are candidates for the team, many of them as can qualify to Antwerp for the great international classic.

MUST BOOST.
All of Southern California must be behind us and help send the team to Belgium," said President Weaver. "It is going to be a big undertaking to finance the sending of athletes to the games, but it is a matter of community pride, for all Southern California will benefit from our participation in the Olympic Games."

W. Weaver, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, announced today at amateur athletic union headquarters as follows:

April 17—Junior 100 yard breast stroke, Los Angeles A. C.
April 17—Junior 200 yards free style, Cleveland Y.M.C.A.
April 23—Senior 400 yards relay, Olympic Club, San Francisco.
April 28 to May 1—Senior water polo, Pacific Association, San Francisco.

April 25—Junior 100 yards backstroke, Pacific Association, San Francisco.
April 24—Senior 100 yard backstroke, Philadelphia Turngemeinde.
May 2—Senior plunge for distance, Idora Swimming Club, San Francisco.
April 10—Junior 400 yards relay, Detroit.

CORONADO POLOISTS LOSE TO BRITISHERS.

DEL MONTE, April 1.—The Eastern-British polo team won the final match for the Del Monte handicap senior cups today, defeating Coronado 11 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Coronado, starting with a seven-goal handicap, was able to score only one goal and lost half a point by penalty.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Stanislaus Zyzsko, Polish heavyweight wrestler, tonight refused to accept the decision of a referee in his favor after his opponent, John Freiburg of Chicago, was thrown from the mat and injured after 1 hr. 19 m. 14 s. of wrestling without a fall.

Freiburg's head struck the floor at the edge of the mat and he was unable to continue. He was not seriously injured, it was said, when he had recovered.

Freiburg was the "best man" he had met since his return to America, Zyzsko said.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Bill Rodgers has definitely decided to start Bill Stumpf at third base in the opening game with Seattle Tuesday afternoon. Stumpf has been competing for the difficult corner with Willie Butler, once with the Portland Heavers, and Lee Sheehan, a local product, who gained his baseball education in the Southern and Canadian leagues. Stumpf was utility infielder with the Rodgers aggregation last season.

After two days of light training the Tipper infield went through a pep rally working on a combination.

There seems to be some reason for Rodgers' belief that this quartette will prove one of the fastest in the circuit. McIlwain and McIlwain are without peers in this league. Billy Orr led the shortstop in fielding last season.

Yesterday he accomplished stunts that were well-nigh impossible. The one doubtful place in the combination is at third base. Stumpf is a timely hitter and a fair fielder. If he can maintain his present grand of baseball throughout the season the infield will be unbeatable.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Vincent Richards, champion, and William T. Tilden II, Philadelphia, won places in the final round of the national indoor championship tennis singles today.

Richards easily mastered Samuel Hardy, former California, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2. Richards, former Columbia champion, gave Tilden a surprise, but lacked severity in his volleys, which assisted the Philadelphia to win without the aid of his powerful serve. The score was 6-1, 7-5. Tilden and Richards meet for the title Saturday.

The scores of the important matches in the doubles follow:

Third round, Frederick C. Anderson and Benjamin M. Letson defeated Carl J. Post, Jr., and George S. Grosbeck, 6-2, 6-4; Samuel Hardy and Howard Voshell defeated Arthur S. Crain and William A. Campbell, 6-2, 6-2; W. C. Grant and G. C. Shaffer defeated S. V. Rubens and M. M. Mott, 6-2, 11-15.

Semifinal round, William T. Tilden, II, and Vincent Richards defeated F. C. Anderson and Benjamin M. Letson, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The Executive Committee of the United States Golf Association today decided to invite delegates from various subsidiary associations to a conference here April 30 to discuss proposed changes in the rules. The committee, it was announced, desired "to get in concrete form the point of view of the majority in this country."

ESTABLISH NEW BOWLING MARK.

PEORIA (Ill.) April 1.—A new high single game mark for the women events was established at the American Bowling Congress today by C. Jakowski and C. Urbanski, Toledo, when they hit for 432. The score came in their first game. Their total count was 1155, just inside the prize money, had second and third games pulling them down.

The First Limit of Trout.

Not Very Big, But They're All There.

Bob Haggart of the B. H. Dyas Company was the first man to land in town with the limit of trout. The fish were caught in Clear Creek, in Ventura county. Reports indicate that the streams are muddy and too full of water to make it easy pickings for the anglers. The first catch was rushed to Los Angeles by F. W. Rea, and a Holmes air-cooled car did the heavy rushing.

A.A.U. SETS SWIM DATES.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, April 1.—Definite dates for several national swimming championship events were announced today at amateur athletic union headquarters as follows:

April 17—Junior 100 yard breast stroke, Los Angeles A. C.
April 17—Junior 200 yards free style, Cleveland Y.M.C.A.
April 23—Senior 400 yards relay, Olympic Club, San Francisco.

CUBS ARE TAMED BY LOWLY OAKS.

Three Pitchers Slaughtered by Last Year's Tailenders.

Carl Holling has Too Much on Pill for Mitchell's Men.

Hack Miller Pulls Some Sensational Fielding Stuff.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

OAKLAND, April 1.—Carl Holling, the youthful Oakland hurler, was too much for Fred Mitchell's Chicago Cubs this afternoon and the boys from the Windy City had to be satisfied with the short end of an 8 to 1 score.

Holling kept the majors away from the plate until the ninth inning, when he eased up. At no time during the game did he look bad, while three Chicago pitchers were unable to stop the Oaks.

Bailey started the hugging for the Cubs and the first run was made off him in the fourth inning on a walk by Willie Miller's single on the hit and run and a wild pitch.

SEVEN IN FOURTH.

The other seven runs were gathered in the fourth when Turner and Webber, two other Chicago pitchers, had a turn in the box. Timely hits by Lane, Miller and Guitto featured in this inning.

Webber looked the best of the hurlers for the Cubs and did not allow a score in the last three innings. He is a southpaw.

RAH FOR HACK.

Hack Miller made a couple of sensational catches in left field, one robbing Lear of a double, Claude Mitchell, the Oaks' baby infielder, played a bangup game at short.

In the seventh inning Robertson hit a triple but was nipped out on the hidden ball trick worked by Jack Knight. Manager Fred Mitchell was on the coaching line at the time.

The Cubs met the Oaks in a second game Sunday morning. The score:

Chicago Cubs 1 5 2
Oakland 8 7 1
Batteries—Bailey, Turner, Webber and Daley; Holling and Mitchell.

Blue-Blooded Entries for Spring Show.

Superb Horses Entered in Santa Barbara Show.

One of the thoroughbreds which will make a bid for honors in the Second Annual Horse Show, which opens at Santa Barbara next week. The horse is entered by Miss Lucile Gildersleeve of Gildersleeve, Ct. Some of the finest horses in the country have been lined up for the coming affair.

DISPLAY THOROUGHBREDS.

Blue Bloods of the Country Entered in Santa Barbara Horse Show.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Like a page from the history of olden times, when ladies and gentlemen in powdered wigs gathered together the blue bloods of their aristocratic stables to compete in races and shows—is to be the horse show over at the Ambassador Hotel in Santa Barbara Easter week.

From East and West will come these famous thoroughbreds that are to take part in the second annual horse show that begins on April 10 and lasts until and including the afternoon of April 16. This week of spectacular maneuvers of horse and rider will be crowned with the horse show ball, which will be held at the hotel on the evening of Friday, April 2.

Thrills in horsemanship by thirty crack riders from the Eleventh Cavalry, which is coming up from the border, is one of the features of the show. Gen. J. B. Erwin, commander of the Eleventh Cavalry, United States Army, is coming up with his officers and men, including the thirty experts and horses who have made history in many daring and thrilling rides the past few years on the Mexican border.

The scores of the important matches in the doubles follow:

JOHNSON MAY FIGHT FULTON.

Mexicali Syndicate Plans Finish Fight Between Two.

If "Confessor" Refuses Morris to be Selected.

Former Heavyweight Champ to Throw Bull Sunday.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

MEXICALI, April 1.—A Mexicali syndicate, headed by Fred Dato, today signed up Jack Johnson, former world's heavyweight champion, for a finish fight with either Fred Fulton, who is now supposed to be at Tia Juana, or Carl Morris, former "white hope," who is now in Arizona. The fight will take place some time within the next ninety days.

Johnson is also signed up for an all-around exhibition in the Mexicali bull ring Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. He will pounce the bag, attempt to down a bull and do some other physical stunts. Preparations for a big time are being made in Mexicali.

Bill Tate, Jack Dempsey's sparring partner has been selected as Johnson's opponent in the bull ring Sunday afternoon. The scrap will be a three-round affair.

RETURNING TO UNITED STATES. Johnson today said: "I am going back to the United States in about two more months and then I am going to regain my lost laurels. I will let the public judge me when I step in the ring Sunday afternoon with Tate. I never felt better in my life and I feel I can take Carpenter and Dempsey in the same ring and lick them both in ten minutes."

Johnson is not at all apprehensive over the fact that he may face arrest when he crosses the line into the United States. He expects to have matters cleared up so that he will be a free man.

Johnson was talked as if he intended to cross the line after he has fought Morris and Fulton in Mexicali. This will be some time within the next two months. Monday he leaves for Tia Juana and

Correct, but—

The three-man pitching staff has increased. At the present time, Manager Gleason is provided with five competent pitchers, five men able to go the route, five who should perform up to the pennant-winning mark. They are: Ed Clontz, Lefty Williams, Dick Kerr, Urban Faber and Spencer Heath. The latter is a rookie, but Manager Gleason declares he has won himself a job.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) SPOKANE (Wash.) April 1.—Ted Thye, champion of the world's middleweight wrestling championship and Walter Miller of Los Angeles, former champion, have been matched to meet here April 15.

stronger. There is no need of commenting on Kerr, Williams and Clontz, other than to say they are in good trim.

Gleason is as tickled as can be with the pitching outlook. Last winter it looked mighty grim, and now it appears as the brightest spot on the club.

Enumerating the big five does not take into consideration Roy Wilkinson and Grover Lowdermilk. Wilkinson did well last season after coming from Columbus, but so far this spring he has had a sore arm. Payne is a recruit to be retained for further investigation.

LOWDERMILK MAY SHOW.

Lowdermilk owns a multitude of stuff, but it is a question if he will have control. In spite of undependability last year he allowed the same number of earned runs per game that Dutch Reuther did, and the latter was considered a star.

The return of Chick Gandil is the only thing that makes Gleason's happiness complete. Jordan is a good first baseman, but Gandil last year played the best first base ever seen in major leagues, when he committed only three errors in 115 games and hit around .295.

Ascot Park Swarming with Cowboy Contestants.

It will be busier than a three-ring circus at Ascot tomorrow afternoon and Sunday, when the semifinals and finals are held in the Stampede. When Chairman George R. Bentele checked up yesterday on the remaining events it was found that there were so many contests left for decision in the two days that it would be necessary for the arenas and tracks to be kept busy all the time.

A regular time schedule has been arranged to be followed. This means that there will be no delays in the doing, for as soon as one contest is finished another will be ready to immediately follow. The judges said that this would be the only way in which each of the contestants could be reached in the long program.

BEST EVER.

The addition of the three running events, too, has made the schedule just that much more difficult to handle. But Chairman Bentele is determined that the last two days in Ascot's history shall be the best of all, marking as it does the passing of the famous plant and also the fast-going Western frontier.

The cowboy camps today are going like trip-hammers. Yesterday afternoon the Ascot field was like a beehive, with the contestants out in force preparing for the final tests tomorrow and Sunday.

There is still a heated word battle going on over the bucking finals, and telegrams have been sent home by the contestants asking for more money to back themselves in the lively wagering. On one, the result of one ride alone, there is $1000. This sum will go to Jess Stahl if he succeeds in riding Poncha Villa from one end of the arena to the other. The owners of the horse say it can't be done. Stahl's backers are unbending in the belief that he is the one man who can conquer the vicious old buck.

TWENTY LEFT.

There are twenty left in the bucking finals out of 150 who started, evidence that a tough lot of horses were rounded up to make the world's title a real honor, well earned. The steer-riding championship aspirants have been reduced to fourteen.

DUTCH GETS DECISION.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) SALT LAKE CITY, April 1.—Kid Dutch, Salt Lake middleweight, was awarded a decision over Harry Casey of Tacoma, Wash., in a fast six-round bout here last night. Willie St. Claire, Sacramento negro lightweight boxer, won a four-round contest over Danny O'Brien of Salt Lake.

ENTRIES IN FOR ALL-SOUTHERN.

Entries for the big all-southern high school track meet, which is to be held at Occidental College on April 10, closed yesterday with 253 names in the bag.

Twenty-eight schools are represented in the long list which Manager Seth Van Patten released last night for publication. The meet will be held under the auspices of Hollywood High School. Names of individuals entered in the various events and their affiliations follow:

operation of the clubs and organizations will be asked. Assurances have been given that practically all of the leading organizations of the city will get behind the programme of the Olympic Games Committee.

Several posts of the American Legion have already signified their intention of helping in the campaign to finance the sending of the Southern California athletes to Belgium.

Instead of raising money by popular subscription, as is being done in the East, the local committee plans to put on a monster vaudeville review at Clune's Auditorium, May 19 to 25. This will help to raise funds. There will be a series of athletic events and entertainments.

"GREAT ENTHUSIASM."

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) NEW YORK, April 1.—Formation of local committees in a number of cities to encourage participation by American athletes in the Olympic games at Antwerp this summer was announced today by Gustave T. Kirby, president of the American Olympic Committee.

After visiting Pittsburgh and Baltimore, Mr. Kirby declared he had found "great enthusiasm" in the American Olympic Committee.

Selection of committees in many cities will be made in the next few weeks, Mr. Kirby said.

FRENCH TRY-OUTS.

(BY TABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.) PARIS, April 1.—May 9 has been officially designated by the War Minister as the date for the first all-nation trials among the French athletes for the selection of a team from among soldiers now doing military duty to represent France at the Olympic games in Antwerp.

The War Minister authorities and urge all soldiers to enter the competitions, which are to be held in all the military districts of France. The final events will take place at Strasbourg, May 23 and 24.

HERZOG READY TO JOIN, CUBA.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) CHICAGO, April 1.—Charles (Buck) Herzog, veteran second baseman for the Chicago Nationals, who came to Chicago from the California training camp for an operation for relief from hernia tonight was ready to rejoin his team-mates.

Dr. Howard R. Chislett, who examined Herzog, said an operation was not necessary at this time, and could just as well wait until the end of the season. Herzog can safely rejoin the team and begin play, the doctor said. Buck is taking the learned gent's word for it and says he will be in shape for opening day.

MARY McGAFFAN (captain), 29; Rocky Middleton, 16; Pete Compton, 17; Fred Molwitz, 16; Brick Elford, 16; Bill Stump, 15; Willie Butler or Les Sheehan, 15; Billy Orr, 15; Les Cook, Bobby Schang or Forrest Corby, Walter Mox, 14.

The third base position is still up in the air, and any one of the above-mentioned trio may be sent in to cover the difficult corner at the eleventh hour.

Manager Rodgers has not yet decided on which of his three catchers will do the receiving on the opening day. Walter Malle is expected to catch. Other players on the Sacramento roster follow: Bill Prough, Emerson McAllely, "Pinches" Kuntz, Ken Penner, "Quaker" Larin and Jack Killen, pitchers; "Red" Hildges, outfielder.

SWIMMING EXHIBITION.

Richard Hedrick, aged 2, and Mary Jane Irving, aged 4, both of whom are movie-picture artists, will give an exhibition of the side stroke, back stroke and diving at the Wilkeson College of Swimming tonight.

Doyle Lasts One Round.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.) KENOSHA (Wis.) April 1.—Tony Melchior of Chicago knocked out Jack Doyle, claimant to the heavy-weight championship of Canada, in the first round of a scheduled ten-round bout, last night.

TREKKING TO CORONADO.

Tennis players of Los Angeles and way points have begun their annual trek to Coronado, where the ninth annual tourney of the Coronado Country Club is to be held April 5 to 10, inclusive.

There are to be six events this year—men's singles, men's doubles, women's singles, women's doubles, mixed doubles and special events. The affair is sanctioned and held under the auspices of the southern branch of the United States Lawn Tennis Association. Simpson Sinsabaugh is in charge of the tournament. Associated with him are Charles Hirschman, Tom Bundy, Roy Blufuss, Maurice McLoughlin, Ned Brown, Miss Adelaide Panton and Mrs. Clement Hall.

Entries will close tomorrow night and can be made up to that time with any member of the tournament committee or at the Coronado Country Club.

Winner of the men's singles last year was Maurice McLoughlin and of the women's singles, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy.

Besides the members of the local colony, several of the San Francisco net stars are expected to come south for the competition.

Eight Hundred Thousand Starving, Helpless, Dying Children in Central Europe

This week every citizen of Los Angeles is asked to do his or her share to prolong the life of these children and give them a chance that is theirs by birthright, but has been taken from them by the trampling of the war armies back and forth over the villages and their homes. They are today helpless if Americans fail them. Will you individually permit it to be said that Americans failed to provide a few paltry dollars when innocent human lives of children were in the balance.

YOUNG FORGER IS SENTENCED.

Harold Smith, Aged 17, Son of Divorced Parents.

Cut Wide Swath, Using Name of Rich Grandfather.

Sailor for "Pat" and Girls for His Companions.

Harold Smith, a son of divorced parents, was committed to Preston State School on a charge of forgery by Judge Reeves of the Juvenile Court yesterday. Harold, almost 17 years old, forged the name of his grandfather, Charles Pierce, a wealthy retired capitalist of this city, on a number of checks, and on the proceeds cut a wide swath, a sailor being his pal, and girls his companions.

Several forged checks were produced in court and repudiated by Mr. Pierce. It appeared that the defendant had cashed a $200 check with Alexander and Oviatt, who had an account with Mr. Pierce. The youth represented that he was Gavin Pierce, John.

Harold also cashed a check for room rent and incidentals at Trinity Hotel. For ten days he rode around in a hired automobile, giving the driver, G. P. Powers, a check for $500. During those ten days Harold was a man of the world, visiting cafes and keeping the automobile going until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning. His undoing followed when Mr. Powers notified the police of the $500 check.

Mrs. Ida Pierce, the grandmother, told Judge Reeves that Harold had always been wayward. His mother and stepfather reside in Salt Lake. The stepfather is Albert Bottleson. It also developed during the hearing that Harold had been an inmate of a reformatory in Idaho for two years. After his release he tried to enlist in the navy. He says he has not seen his father for fourteen years. Upon his return from Preston, Harold will report to the court for further proceedings.

NEW MILLION-DOLLAR CATALINA BOAT HERE.

CROSS-CHANNEL LINER WILL MAKE FIRST TRIP TO ISLAND MONDAY.

With the flag of the Santa Catalina Island Company at its masthead, the S. S. City of Avalon for the company's cross-channel service arrived here yesterday, via the Panama Canal, from the plant of the builders in Brooklyn. The boat will go into service Monday.

Built at the Morse plant at a cost of close to $1,000,000, the new cross-channel liner is 286 feet long, forty-two-foot beam, and is capable of carrying 800 passengers. It has a rating of sixteen knots an hour. No detail looking toward seaworthiness of the craft and the safety and comfort of passengers has been overlooked. The state-rooms for passengers are on the upper deck, aft of the bridge. Amidships are four de luxe cabins with private baths and hot and cold running water. Forward and aft of the engine rooms are two ballrooms, finished in mahogany, with stained glass windows and mirrors. A complete electric ventilating system is arranged such to create an artificial breeze in the ballrooms, has been installed, as well as an artificial sunlight system that gives a wonderful effect through the windows.

There are eight Lundin life boats, each with a capacity of seventy-five people, and eight with a capacity of fifty each, besides numerous life-rafts of the latest design. The steamer is driven by twin triple-expansion engines of 1500 horse power each. There are ten pumps of various sizes, which can be used to pump out the bilges in case of accident. Three of these can be used on the fire main in case of fire, in addition to two hand fire pumps.

LOST ON SNOW TRAIL.

Councilman and Guest Have Novel
Experience in Mountains.

Lost in the snow-covered heights of the Sierra Madre Mountains, with the prospect of having to spend the night in the snow, was the situation of Councilman Conaway Wednesday night. He missed two sessions of the Council, arriving from his mountain trip yesterday noon.

Councilman Conaway and his brother-in-law, Prof. E. E. Bruce, who holds the chair of mathematics in the Boston University, made the trip to Mt. Wilson Wednesday morning, and then undertook to walk over to Alpine Tavern, on Mt. Lowe. They found the trail unbroken, and becoming confused were circling back in the same direction they had come from when they met a mountaineer who directed them on their way. Finally they reached Alpine Tavern, but too late to get back to the city until yesterday.

Prof. Bruce is on his way to the Orient, where he will exchange with a professor in the Tain Hua College at Peking. He will be accompanied by Laurence Conaway, son of Councilman Conaway.

DIES UNDER TREATMENT.

Inquiry to Learn if Doctor who Gave Injection is to Blame.

County officials began an investigation yesterday of the death of Reginald J. Hudson, 35 years of age, of 1054 Ingraham street, who died while under treatment in the downtown office of a local physician. The body is at the undertaking establishment of W. A. Brown. According to Coroner Hartwell death was caused by the injection of a drug into the man's veins, although the weakened condition of the patient was to a large extent responsible. Mr. Hudson is said to have been under treatment for a number of ailments for some time. He called at the doctor's office early yesterday and asked for treatment. Following the injection he lost consciousness and died.

JAZZ QUEEN FILM.

SOPHIE TUCKER PLANNING TO MAKE LIFE STORY.

By Edwin Schallert.
Sophie Tucker, the jazz queen of vaudeville and a favorite here, is shortly to make her debut before the camera in a story written around her life on the stage and its environs, chiefly the cafes. The film is to be called "The Meeting," and will be written by Frances Guinan, a life-long friend of Miss Tucker's. The last visit paid to this city by the famous singer of rag songs was on the Orpheum Circuit, and she is now among the people programmed for appearance at Pantheons. There is a possibility that the feature will be made in California. Many of the incidents of the story are said to be drawn from Miss Tucker's own experiences.
Coming Back for Good.
Frank Keenan is to pay a visit to New York for the above mentioned purpose in the eastern city, with the intention of settling down in Los Angeles once and for all upon his return. Keenan recently purchased a home in Hollywood.
The actor will leave this week for the east.

Morocco.
"Jolly with a Past" is now in the third week at the Morocco Theater. Practically every performance since this stage play opened has been sold out, and it looks as if the successor to "Civilian Clothes" were also due for an extended run. Louis Calhern, Eleanor Woodruff and others are appearing.

Garwick.
Charlie Ray is amusing large audiences at the Garwick in the second run showing of his photoplay, "Alarm Clock Andy." He plays the role of an ambitious young man who cures himself of laziness and of the habit of stuttering. Incidentally he makes a big business success that wins the hand of his employer's daughter.

Priestly Dean Soon.
It's a long time, indeed, since Frisella Dean's sparkling eyes have been seen on the local screen. Since her last appearance she's been seriously ill, vacationed, made one super-feature that is said to rival anything yet produced in a special way, and finally, most important of all, gotten married to no less prominent a film personage than Whelan. Dean's last performance was "The Virgin of Stamboul," which is now scheduled to begin showing at the Superior Theater about ten days hence.

This film was produced under the direction of Fred Brown and required very elaborate settings, many of which are still standing at the U plant. About six months were needed for the taking of the picture, let alone editing and other details.

Pay's Working Again.
After a vacation of three months from screen work, Pay Tischer has commenced appearing before the camera again in a special capacity at the Christie studios, entitled "Re-linda's Bluff." In the company which is acting under the direction of Beaumont Newhall, besides Miss Tischer, Charlotte Merriman, Eddie Barry and Sammie Harrison. The story is by Maie B. Harvey.

Walker Building Home.
Manager Carl J. Walker of Pantheons Theater is building himself a new home near Hollywood drive, to be ready for occupancy about May 1.

DAHNE DIVORCE CASE UP TO APPEAL COURT.

Department 2, District Court of Appeal, will hold its April session here, beginning next Monday, and continuing until Wednesday evening. There are forty-two cases on the calendar, but only three are appeals in criminal cases.
For hearing Wednesday is the celebrated divorce case from San Diego county, involving Eugene and Louise R. Dahne. Jefferson Davis, Jr., Stearns & Forward represent the appellant, Eugene Dahne, and Holcomb & Kennedy represent Mrs. Dahne.

INDIANAN DIES HERE.

Thomas J. Young, father of Dr. Frank P. Young, died Thursday morning at the French Hospital. Mr. Young, who was a resident of Indian, Ind., had spent his winters in Southern California for several years. The body will be taken East Tuesday by Dr. Young. Until that time it will lie in the chapel of Garrett & Co.

One can hardly imagine a happier combination than Charles Ray and Booth Tarkington. This combination is about to occur when Mr. Ray does a picture version of BETTY BLYTHE TO WED.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

Tarkington's latest story, "Ramona Mulholland," the film rights to which First National has just purchased.

As another link in the Europe-ho movement now taking place among our stars, and which promises to make England and France suburbs of Hollywood, it is now announced that Antonio Moreno, Vitaphone serial star, will to Spain next fall, where he will make a feature picture.

Mr. Moreno is connected with certain noble families of Spain, but has not been in that country for many years. He was supposed to be destined for the priesthood, but ran away from home, came to this country and went on the stage.

Outing, Running on High, Says:
That Lloyd Hughes furnishes the vase in his new limousine with a fresh bunch of white roses each day, being Gloria Hope's favorite flower.

If Allan Dwan will communicate with the lady whom he kissed from the running board of her car when said vehicle stopped at the Brunton studios the other day, he will hear of something greatly to his advantage.

Joe Martin wants it distinctly understood that whether he succeeds in getting his divorce from Sarah Martin or not, he does not intend to go to Europe to make a picture.

Betty Blythe has invested a cocktail, known as Angela's Pousse Cafe. It is made up of syrups and has all the colors, but none of the authority.

Now watch out and see whom Owen Moore is going to marry!

Jackie Saunders Soon.
Jackie Saunders, former Raiboa star, and lately under contract with an eastern film concern, is on her way home from New York, where she has been working during the last several months.

Brune J. Becker, general manager of the Gale Henry Comedy Company, returned to Los Angeles this week after a two month's visit in New York, having completed negotiations in the eastern metropolis for a new series of two and five-reel comedies featuring Gale Henry.

Towards the close of General Manager Becker's visit in New York, he was stricken with a severe attack of influenza, from which he has not yet fully recovered.

Mr. Becker, and a director of the thirty new world will guide the destinies of her productions, which, it is emphatically announced, are not to be of the slapstick order.

Low Cody to Travel.
Now let all the matinee girls throughout the country sit tight! Low Cody is shortly to make a series of personal appearances in cities all the way across the country, at the theaters where his Gaudier productions are being shown. When he reaches New York he will film the closing scenes of his current picture, "The Mischief Man," by H. Tipton Stock, James H. Jones is directing.

Mr. Cody will make his next picture in Los Angeles and San Diego, though he declares he's going to be mighty homesick for Los Angeles all the time. Following the completion of the picture, it is possible, he says, that he may go to Havana—Havana, Cuba, you know, that oasis and refuge of the thirty new world called "Havanother." Here he will make another picture, built, possibly, around the prohibition question.

P.S.—Mr. Cody does not say whether he will be homesick in Havana or not.

Vance With Inco.
The first of a series of big special attractions written by Louis Joseph Vance and edited by all-star casts, will enter production at the Thomas H. Ince studios within the next ten days, it was announced this week by Mr. Ince.

"Beau Revel," a modern society drama depicting the undercurrents of the transgressing smart set, heads the list of famous Vance stories to be produced in the coming season.

P.S.—Mr. Vance is now in New York, where his picture will be completed.

Now Laugh Gaudier.
"Taylor-Made" is the name of the newest brand of two-reel comedies to be produced by Los Angeles capital. These are to be marketed by the Acme Comedy Company, a new organization, which has E. E. Reynolds as general business manager, and G. J. Taylor as general production manager.

Christie Expanding.
It looks very much as if the Christie Film Company were planning a big expansion of their activities in the film world. For it has just become known that the company has acquired a part of the Beeswax tract on Sunset boulevard between Western avenue and Gower street, in Hollywood, the other portion of which was recently taken over by Al Kaufmann for a studio. The Christie company has just received the deed to the property for some time, but as yet have done nothing with it. However, on his arrival recently from New York, Charles H. Christie made the following comment on the deal: "We have long realized that when the time was ripe for our entry into the field of big productions we would eventually have to spread out beyond the limits of our block, which we are building up within the boundaries of Sunset, Gower, El Centro and Salem streets. This property is now being built up continually, and at this location we shall continue the production of our already established one and two-reel Christie comedies."

The fact that we are planning feature productions on a large scale has made the project for expansion necessary. We have always realized that the most successful way to produce big features is to have the sets well segregated and give plenty of space to each producing company. The features already arranged for and those which we are negotiating to secure will give us a programme of production beginning in June with "So Long Letty."

Marie Beaton Beats It.
Marie Louise Beaton, Metro leading woman, left for New York Tuesday, where in the newly reopened Sixty-first street Metro studios she will essay one of the star parts in Avery Hopwood's "Clothes."

Miss Beaton was one of a trio of picture girls who recently hiked to San Diego for a lark, getting a lift here and there, but sleeping out of doors by night. The girls traveled incognito. Reaching San Diego they sold papers and made enough money to pay their passage home, as well as pay their hotel bills.

Thurston Hall Starred.
Another former Morocco favorite is to be starred in New York if present plans don't fall by the wayside. He is Thurston Hall, formerly with "Civilian Clothes" here, and who played the lead in New York in the Buchanan comedy. The piece in which Hall will star is a new play by Edward Payne, author of "The Prince Chap" and other plays, and it is named tentatively "Mother Man," being adapted from a novel written some time ago by the playwright.

Two American Composers on Olga Steeb's Programme.
At her forthcoming piano recital, which is to take place at Trinity Auditorium Tuesday evening, Olga Steeb will play two compositions written by American women. Fannie Dillon, the popular resident composer, will be represented by her "Evening," a poetic illustrative sketch in Miss Dillon's characteristic spiritual manner. Also the "Dancer" by Mona Tuco, which reached Miss Steeb two weeks ago, will have its first performance at this concert.

Miss Steeb has a remarkable memory, which permits her an astonishing repertoire of almost 1000 pieces. This fact stood her in good stead at her recent recital in New York, when she was obliged to respond to many and various demands from her audience for impromptu encores.

ESTELLE DREYFUS AS SOLOIST AT SERVICES.
Announcement was made yesterday of the selection of Estelle Dreyfus, contralto, as soloist for the sunrise service Easter morning at Olive Hill, at the junction of Hollywood and Sunset boulevards and Vermont avenues. The Philharmonic Orchestra and the Hollywood Community Chorus are to appear at this same event.

Mrs. Dreyfus will sing Frederick Stevenson's "Salutation to the Dawn." The orchestra is to include in its programme the overture to Wagner's "Rienzi" and the "Pomp and Circumstance" march, by Elgar. The chorus will sing "Holy, Holy, Holy" and "Christ the Lord is risen Today," with the orchestra accompanying. The programme will open at 8:15 o'clock, with a fanfare of trumpets from the four points of the compass.

WILL CHRISTEN OIL WELL.
Mildred Harris Chaplin of "The Inferior Sex" will christen the first well at the new Linda Vista oil field at a big celebration tomorrow morning. Linda Vista is ten miles northeast of San Diego, in San Clemente Canyon, adjoining the site of Camp Kearney. The "girding in" ceremony will be attended by a large number of motion-picture people, army officers and business men from Los Angeles and San Diego.

Mrs. Chaplin will be the guest of M. Gore, president of the Linda Vista Company, and the owner of a chain of film theaters in Los Angeles, Mayors Snyder and Wilda and Lieut.-Gen. Hunter Liggett have been invited to be present.

CHILDREN'S PLAY MAY TOUR.
Frank Egan, chief sponsor for Los Angeles for the children's theater movement, is planning to give productions of "Rackety Packety House" in Pasadena, Santa Ana, Fontana, Long Beach and other municipalities of the Southland. He says he has received many requests for productions of the play, which will be staged again tomorrow afternoon at Egan Little Theater.

ADVOCATES STOCK TRAINING.
Bert Lytell, who portrays Charles Steele, lawyer and gentleman, in the "Right of Way," from the book by Sir Gilbert Parker, showing a second week at Tally's Broadway, believes that playing in stock is the most thorough schooling for all who would aspire to success in drama, whether on the stage or screen.

NO PERFORMANCE TODAY.
In accordance with the custom of the nine years, there will be no afternoon performance of the Mission Play today at the San Gabriel Mission. A special Easter service was given last night, a portion of the house having been reserved for the delegates and officers of the League of the South-west. An address of greeting was given before the curtain rose by John Stevas McGroarty, author of the pagan drama.

TITAN POSSIBILITIES OF SOUTHWEST OUTLINED.

Convention Speakers Sketch Enormous Fields of Wealth Development of the Colorado will Lay Open.

Mr. Grunsky said that the construction of the Lower Colorado River is an international problem, that the river should be put upon a course to the Gulf of California, and that the work should be done jointly by the United States and Mexico.

E. W. Waymouth, chief of construction of the United States Reclamation Service, described the lower third of the Colorado basin as a desert composed of hot, arid, low-lying plains and valleys broken by occasional mountain ranges. The river on the rim of this basin accumulates through the winter and spring on the mountain peaks.

During 1919 a topographic survey was started for what is known as the Boulder Canyon reservoir site in Nevada and Arizona. The proposed dam site for this reservoir is at a point about 28 miles below the mouth of the Virgin River. The topographic survey of this site is not yet completed but it is expected that it will be completed by the end of the year.

higher than any yet built could be constructed at this point, possibly 500 or 600 feet high, and it may be possible to store as much as 25,000,000 acre feet. With a reservoir of such capacity it would largely control the floods in the Colorado River and the silt deposits in a reservoir of that capacity would not be sufficient to cause any material damage for hundreds of years and a large amount of power could be developed to operate several thousand miles of railroad which are within the limits of practical power transmission.

During a brief recess yesterday afternoon the representatives of the various States met in conference to discuss the question of resolutions to be adopted and to name members of the Resolutions Committee.

Eugene D. Burr, district counsel of the United States Reclamation Service, spoke on "The Law and the Colorado River Basin." He said: "Before the Colorado River project can be undertaken, two must be brought to lay aside local prejudices and differences that the enterprise in all its magnitude may take definite form. The project must be financed and undertaken under one of three general plans: private, State or Federal money and agencies may be used."

"Private agencies cannot afford to become interested in so large an un-

BREAKS DIVORCE SPEED LIMIT.

Judge Weller Tries Twenty Default Cases in Hour and Fifty Minutes.

Presiding Judge Weller, who is sitting in Department Fourteen for Judge Monroe, who is ill with a cold, tried twenty default divorce cases in one hour and fifty minutes yesterday. He granted fourteen decrees, on charges of cruelty and desertion, and continued one case for further evidence, the allegation being misconduct.

Judge Weller believes he has broken a record for speed.

detaching because the long construction period and its interest burdens are prejudicial to success. States as a whole. The United States government is the only agency which can look at the project as a whole and for the benefit of all States and valleys interested."

Mr. Burr spoke of two theories regarding the powers of the United States in dealing with the western water supply. He said that under the first theory the United States retains original plenary authority over the non-navigable waters, except where the right to use them has become private property under acts of Congress. The second theory, he said, is that the property in the non-navigable waters of the West has already been dedicated by Congress to the States and is subject to use by individuals and procurable from the individual States by compliance with the State laws.

BY MR. SEIBERLING.

F. A. Seiberling, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, spoke on "Southwest: Its Trade and Commerce." Speaking of the Colorado River basin, he outlined three broad results that will be made possible through the harnessing of the river. These will be—the diversion for the irrigation of lands above the Grand Canyon, by reducing the peak of the floods, will reduce the flood menace, return seepage from these irrigated lands will greatly increase the seasonal low water flow as well as the flow of years of low runoff; storage reservoirs, by storing the excess waters, will serve the needs of irrigation and protect the lands below against disastrous floods. By regulating the flow of the Colorado River, he stated, enough power would be utilized to save yearly 100,000,000 tons of coal.

"In all my life," he said, "I have had before me no creative work that so appealed to my imagination and desire as this wonderful reclamation of land and control of the Colorado. The work can be done!"

Victor E. Keyes, Attorney-General of Colorado, closed the first day of the convention with an address on "Headwaters of the Colorado." "It is important that this great stream of water should be harnessed to benefit the nation," he said. "It is apparent to all that the development of the great Southwest depends upon the utilization of these waters and the great thing is that there is enough water in the Colorado River to irrigate all the basin."

MINERALS OF UTAH FOR CALIFORNIANS.

BAMBERGER TELLS CITY CLUB BASIN PROJECT WILL OPEN LANDS.

Great stores of mineral wealth of southwestern Utah will be available for California when the Colorado project is completed, Simon Bamberger, Governor of Utah, declared yesterday at the noon luncheon at the City Club. Gov. Bamberger is here to attend the convention of the League of the Southwest. He urged the members of the City Club to support the proposed reclamation project.

The Governor praised the industrial spirit of the city. He said the location here of the Goodyear Rubber Company will prove a valuable addition to the city and he predicted that many additional enterprises of the East will come here, or establish branch plants here.

Mr. Bamberger declared that he will not be a candidate for re-election in Utah. He said he will quit politics and devote his entire time to the Lake-Ogden-Lake-Orderville Railroad, of which he is president and organizer. The road was originally built from Salt Lake City to Ogden, by way of Layton, but it has since been extended and now operates between Provo and Ogden with branch roads that run to canyon resorts north of Ogden.

The road is to be extended to Colorado to connect with the Moffat Railroad, which is now completed to Steamboat Springs, Colo. This road will pass through the famous Uinta basin, in Northeastern Utah, where hundreds of thousands of acres of land are being cultivated. There is no railroad in the territory and the farmers there have no way to ship their product out except by long stage hauls to Price, Utah.

ARRAIGN RICH LAND DEALERS.

Charge Fraud by G. M. Ross and G. A. Waterman.

Client Blames Pair for Loss of Valuable Ranch.

Says Wyoming Relinquishment Failed to Develop.

Accused of fraud in obtaining a ranch valued at $15,000 from Lewis Wesley Squier on May 17, 1917, George M. Ross, secretary of the Walnut Growers' Association of Anaheim, a wealthy real estate operator of that city, and G. A. Waterman of this city were arrested yesterday and arraigned before Judge Craig.

Mr. Ross was taken into custody at Anaheim by Deputy Sheriff Patton and Mr. Waterman at 1834 North Kenmore avenue, by Deputy Fox. The two men, both well known in this county, were secretly indicted by the county grand jury on Wednesday. They are charged with defrauding Mr. Squier out of his ranch by representations that they held a relinquishment to government land near Bufile, Wyo., valuable for wheat raising. They are said to have induced Mr. Squier to give them a grant deed to W. E. Coult, who was an innocent purchaser from the two defendants, according to the allegations. It is set forth that the relinquishment did not exist.

Mr. Squier received nothing for his land. The defendants were released on $5000 bail each, furnished in Judge Craig's court. They deny the charge, declaring the transaction legitimate. The case was set for April 8 for pleading.

PREPARE MEMORIAL ON RIVER PROJECT.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SUMMARIZES REPORT OF RECENT CONFERENCE.

The board of directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce yesterday adopted a resolution summing up the report of the recent Colorado River conference held at the chamber. The board declares in favor of the project as a whole, for the appropriation of money for further engineering surveys and express itself as being opposed to the adverse use of any of the public lands now reserved for reservoir sites.

It was also decided that a memorial be prepared by the Reclamation and Colorado River Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, setting forth the acreage, wealth, crops annually produced in each of the districts in Southern California, Arizona and Mexico now irrigated from the waters of the Colorado River, and the acreage and potential value in farm products of the districts below the Grand Canyon susceptible to irrigation, but not now irrigated, and that such be presented to every member of Congress.

SAYS DIVORCE WAS ALL RIGHT.

married Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford. "I have been the wife of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks for a long time, and knowing all the circumstances as I do I do not hesitate to say the marriage was entirely justifiable. It was beautiful, quiet and in many respects it was the most solemn at which I have ever officiated."

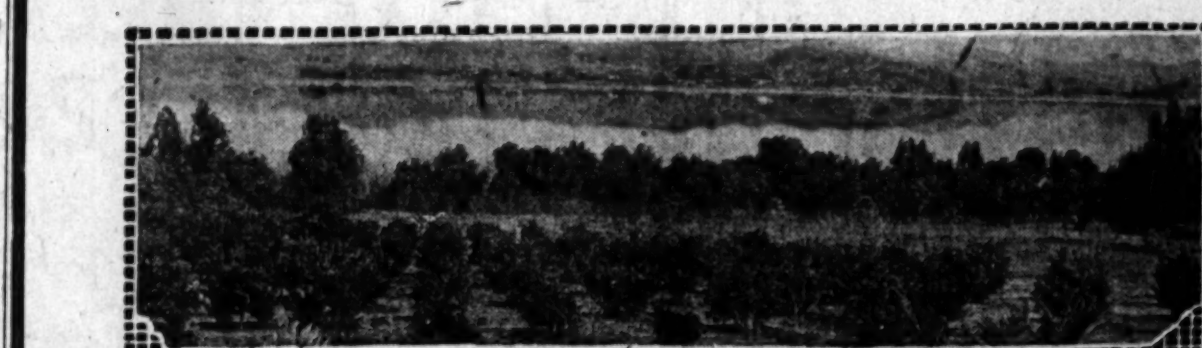

FROM PORTLAND.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) April 1.—Portland, Ore., April 1.—Portland clergymen who formerly were associated with Dr. James Whitcomb Brounager when he was pastor of the White Temple Baptist Church here, were somewhat chary in commenting today on the marriage of Dr. Brounager and Mary Pickford. "I think it is an abomination," exclaimed Rev. Thomas Jenkins, rector of St. David's Episcopal Church. "I think it is an outstanding disgrace that the gospel of Christ or the ministry of Christ should ever lend a hand to such proceedings."

Dr. Jenkins, however, did not believe that Dr. Brounager should come under special censure. "Parallels of this case are going on around us every day," he added. "Before we criticize one particular case let us recognize the prevalence of the many."

"I had I seen Dr. Brounager and asked to perform this ceremony I don't know what my attitude would have been," said Dr. W. T. McElveen, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. "To procure a divorce to marry some one else looks pretty bad, but the certain fact is that Dr. Brounager, occupying Dr. Brounager's former pulpit, was adverse to condemning his predecessor. However, I do believe that the church has been far too careless in the matter of encouraging modern divorces," he declared.

Chairman Dodge of the Board of Supervisors will report to the board today information that has come to him that employees of the county are receiving cash and gifts for services performed in the line of their duty. He stated that incidentally this will bear on the case of R. S. (Cupid) Sparks, head of the underworld bureau, who held out from the record the promise of a marriage license to Douglas Fairbanks, and may have been recompensed for the trip to Mr. Fairbanks' home.

Take Advantage of this unusual Offer!

It is extremely improbable that such an opportunity as we are now offering you will ever again present itself in Southern California. Our tract—just three hours from Los Angeles—on the outskirts of the city of Elsinore, is the last large tract remaining in Southern California for the proved production of fruit!

Buy Proved Fruit Land $350 to $450 per acre with water

Buy it as the soundest kind of an investment—buy it for largest and surest profits—buy it where all conditions are just right—soil, water, climate, markets, transportation and living conditions.

This proved land is being sold by the owners, in parcels of 10 acres or more at prices ranging from $350 to $450 per acre with stock in a mutual water company included.

Special Inducements to Ranchers and others who will immediately put their land under cultivation.

We can make arrangements for those unable to come down immediately to develop their property—by having trees selected, planted and cared for by responsible fruit ranchers under the supervision of Mr. F. A. Anderson, vice-president of the California Growers' Association.

Let us submit facts and figures for your investigation. Facts about our enormous water supply, and how you can reasonably expect a gross income of at least $12,223 from 10 acres in this tract within six years—with a total maximum outlay of but $6011—during the same time. (Less than this if you cultivate and look after your property personally.)

A Clear Profit of $6212 in Cash—and a 10 Acre Fruit Grove Free and Clear.

Visit our Los Angeles Office. See the scores of photographs of this district; look over our maps—read the reports of actual performances made by men right on the ground.

We welcome your fullest inquiry and investigation. Every possible aid will be offered to assist you in getting the real facts—without obligation to you. But don't delay too long if our offer arouses your interest.

How to keep a whole cheese fresh—

Tillamook Cheese in family use is intended for homes, boarding houses, hotels and restaurants. The delicious quality and mild flavor which make Tillamook a favorite may easily be retained. Slice from the bottom. Heat a plate and place the cut end on it. The melted paraffine coating makes an air-tight protection which holds the flavor.

Remember, pasteurized, condensed, cottage and cream cheese are produced by the Tillamook Cheese Company. You will find it economical to buy a small size Tillamook cheese in 6 and 12 pound sizes. TUNNEL'S COST DOUBLE CUTS.

City Engineer Reports on Fifth-Street Project.

Estimates Half Million for One, Million for Other.

Check of Frontage Shows a Majority, He Says.

The City Engineer's report on the project of the Fifth-street Improvement Association for the opening of Fifth street from Grand avenue to Beaudry avenue by means of an open cut, with a tunnel as an alternative, was laid before the City Council yesterday and referred to its Public Works Committee for further consideration.

The City Engineer reports that he has checked the petition from the association and finds that the total frontage in the assessment district, as outlined on the map filed with the petition, is 12,555 feet, making 1255 feet necessary for a majority petition, and that represented thereon are 10,978 feet, which is 87.52 per cent. of the total frontage. He points out that in addition to the frontage represented on the petition, the city is the owner of property within the district having a frontage of 2290 feet.

On the open-cut plan the City Engineer reports the estimated cost of street improvements and grading as follows: Normal Hill Center, $24,441; estimated value of Normal Hill Center buildings to be raised, according to the Assessor's full valuation, $160,000; estimated cost of lands to be taken, exclusive of Normal Hill Center—this includes the estimated value of all parcels of land to be condemned, damages to existing improvements and severance damages between Grand avenue and Beaudry avenue $202,000; estimated cost of excavation and grading to finish subgrade and street improvements, Beaudry avenue to Normal Hill center, $42,194; a total of $449,535.

On the tunnel plan the report shows:

Estimated cost of tunnel, including retaining walls, pavement in approaches, $24,441; estimated cost of lands and damages, Olive to Grand avenue, $227,000; estimated value of three-story brick and tile building at Normal Hill Center, to be raised, $25,000; estimated cost of lands to be taken from the west line of Normal Hill Center to Beaudry avenue, $202,000; street improvements, $42,194; total, $520,144.

In the tunnel scheme, the engineer says, the costs of lands and damages can be reduced to $74,000 by eliminating the proposed high level street on the east side of the cut tunnel approach; thus making the total estimate $476,144.

The tunnel scheme contemplates the widening of Fifth street by fifteen feet on the south side, between Olive and Hill streets, this and the widening of the northern end of Pershing square, as the value and appearance of the park will be improved by abutting on a wide street.

The City Engineer says that no allowance has been made for the value of land taken from Normal Hill Center, as it is believed that the benefit resulting from the opening of Fifth street, which will give it a frontage of 578 feet on a through street and a depth of 302 feet, will be far greater than the value of the parcel taken. The value of this parcel is estimated to be $100,000.

O'BRYAN GOES FREE.

Court Dismisses Charges Against Mexican Land Promoter.

Because of insufficient evidence, a charge against William H. O'Bryan, of obtaining money under false pretenses from numerous prospective purchasers of land on an island in Mexico, owned by the family of Senora Ponca de Leon, was dismissed yesterday by Justice Brown. Deputy District Attorney Hill examined the court record and was unable to get Senora Ponca de Leon and other material witnesses to come here to testify and it could not be proved that the defendant did not own the land in question. The complaint was issued in July and O'Bryan was only recently arrested.

FOR RAIL AND OIL.

The improvement of the city's section of the Coast boulevard at El Segundo is nearing completion, but as the contract does not include the placing of a guard rail on the fill, which has an average height of fifteen feet, the City Engineer recommends that the Council make an appropriation to cover the cost of this work, estimated at $1235. The Board of Public Works will send the City Engineer's report to the Council this morning with its recommendation that the appropriation be made.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE SPLITS THE BOARD?

MCCORMICK SAYS ELECTION TO BE HELD WITHIN NEXT SIXTY DAYS.

The school bond election will be held within the next sixty days, Charles J. McCormick, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Education, stated yesterday. The board will ask for $5,500,000. It is expected that the bonds are to be used for buildings, repairs and extensions for the next three years.

Originally the estimated requirement of the board was set at $12,000,000, but this was subsequently reduced to $7,000,000 at an informal meeting of the committee of the whole, but there has never been any stated amount agreed on. It is believed that at the next meeting of the board, Monday night, the amount will be fixed.

The possibility of a split in the board, over the size of the issue was intimated yesterday afternoon, when one of the members said, "some of the members are determined to keep the bond issue to a minimum, and others are trying desperately to have the issue as large as the taxpayers will stand for."

SPECIAL

Hon. J. R. Richardson, Mayor of Redondo, was elected Vice-President and Managing Director of the company, at a meeting of the Board of Directors Tuesday night.

A new 9-acre lease adjacent to the Rosecrans well has been secured by the Company and the Directors have decided to drill Well No. 3 on this lease.

This means added value to the Company's shares as the big Rosecrans well is said to have good oil showings and promised to be brought in as a "BIG WELL," very shortly.

The Company's program as set forth in their Permit No. 9036, issued by the California Corporation Commission, calls for five wells. No sane person will risk their money on one hole. The men at the head of the Redondo Oil Corporation are all cold-blooded, hard-headed business men and consequently they have so arranged their financing as to permit of all five equipments being bought and five wells being drilled.

We would like to send you a sworn statement made by "Charlie" Keller, who has been drilling oil wells for twenty years and every one a success, as to what he thinks about REDONDO OIL and the chance they have of bringing in a producer. This statement has been the means of interesting many oil drillers and oil operators in this company's stock. We will mail you a copy free on request. Use the coupon.

Seven Chambers of Commerce endorse and pledge support to this company. Common wealth and Traders are all drilling in this district. Their geologists have O.K'd the field. The Redondo Oil Corporation geologists have O.K'd the field. Dr. Edwards, one of the real big men of the oil business, came from the Louisiana fields and O.K'd the field and the location of the first well. On Dr. Edwards' recommendation, one man, who is a successful oil operator, invested $5000.

Brokers are predicting $3.00 to $5.00 for this stock in the near future and claim $20.00 will be cheap for the stock if the company brings in a "gusher."

FAIR WARNING—SHARES $1.00 NOW—BUT WE DO NOT GUARANTEE TO FILL ALL ORDERS RECEIVED EVEN PRIOR TO APRIL 5TH AT THE $1.00 PRICE. They will be filled, as long as our $1.00 stock lasts, in order of their receipt.

Our office will be open all day Saturday and Saturday evening. If you are satisfied and ready to invest, use the Reservation Coupon. If you desire further information and want to read Charlie Keller's sworn statement and receive a geological map, use the Map Coupon.

NOTED DESIGNER OF PLANES HERE

D. W. Douglas Built Largest Flying Mail Craft.

Sees Los Angeles as Factory
Center for Industry.

Thirty-six Hours by Air to New York, He Says.

Donald W. Douglas, designer of the biggest and fastest mail plane in the world and one of America's foremost aeronautical engineers, arrived here yesterday from the East. Mr. Douglas has been chief engineer and designer for the Glenn L. Martin Airplane Company since 1915 and was recently made vice-president. He designed the famous Martin bomber, which flew around the rim of the United States last fall. The Martin twelve-passenger army transport, the Martin torpedo plane and the Martin mailplane, six of which have been in use between New York and Chicago and which will doubtless be used on the transcontinental airmail service, funds for which were voted in the Senate on Monday.

"Los Angeles should unquestionably be the western terminus of the airmail service from the East," said Mr. Douglas last night. "If for other reasons than that it is on the end of the only available all-year route for transcontinental flying. The experience of the airmail mail service between New York and Chicago this winter, combined with the knowledge gained as the result of the army transcontinental race last year, shows that it will be extremely difficult, if not absolutely impossible, to fly over the northern route in winter."

SOUTHERN ROUTE BEST.
"On the other hand it is possible to turn south from Chicago and follow approximately the route of the Santa Fe and maintain service throughout the year. The weather is better and the country over which the planes will fly is so far superior to the northern route that there is no comparison. No such great altitudes need be negotiated as in the Salt Lake-San Francisco route and by night flying it is perfectly possible to deliver mail in New York thirty-six hours after leaving Los Angeles."

The Postoffice Department is now using three types of big airplanes on various routes. On the New York-Washington route, the twin-engine DeHavilland, using two six-cylinder Liberty motors and carrying 600 pounds of mail in its fuselage. On the longer New York-Chicago route the Martin mailplane is running and the new Thomas-Morse mailplane will soon be put in use. The Thomas-Morse has two 300-horsepower Hispano-Suiza motors and carries 1000 pounds of mail. It is now undergoing tests.

"The big Martin Mailplane is very similar to the Martin bomber. It uses two 400-horsepower Liberty motors and carries 1000 pounds of first-class mail. For each one of these giant machines the Postoffice Department has been able to take a full-size mail car off the run. The plane is only big, but very fast, having a speed of 120 miles an hour. They

REMOVES CORNS BY PAINTING THEM

Chemist Discovers Quick Method
Which is Safe and Painless.

R. E. Higgs, a Kansas City chemist, has devised a new method of removing corns and calluses. It consists in merely painting them with a liquid known as Carbow Corn Compound.

This stops the pain at once and in a short time the corns or calluses drop off, leaving the skin unbroken. The method is perfectly safe, quick and convenient.

Anybody can use this treatment at home with assurance of satisfaction. A small bottle of Carbow Corn Compound, costing only a few cents at any drug store, is enough to remove dozens of corns. Druggists will gladly refund the purchase price if it fails.—(Advertisement.)

Why Spring Brings Out Freckles and Eruptions

The sudden appearance of freckles, skin eruptions or the like this season is attributed by scientists to the action of the sun, which is unusually active during the spring months. The skin, which is so affected by this influence, if one will prevent an ounce of common sense, will not suffer from any of these troubles.

A little of the cream or ointment, applied a little before retiring, will keep the skin cool and easily overcome the trouble. When the skin is washed off next morning, minute faky skin particles come with it. The entire outer surface is removed in this way, leaving a smooth, clear, fresh looking skin. No harm or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.—(Advertisement.)

For the theft of four bathrobes and four bathing suits, valued at $60, from George E. Smith of Santa Monica, Vernon Silverthorn, who pleaded guilty to the charge, was sentenced to San Quentin yesterday by Judge Craig for from one to ten years. A charge of burglary was dismissed and a stay of execution of the sentence until April 8 was granted.

ALTERATIONS IN CAR REROUTING.

City Makes Changes Made in Plan Railway Mapped.

Safety Isles to be Placed in the Downtown Streets.

Will be Tried Out First at Seventh and Broadway.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday adopted the supplementary joint report of the engineering departments of the Board and of the State Railroad Commission with reference to the rerouting of the Los Angeles Railway. The board ordered that the changes embodied in the report, which are supplemental to and explanatory of the rerouting plans adopted by the company, shall go into effect in connection with the general rerouting scheme on May 3.

The report, besides, goes into a discussion of the no-parking ordinance, saying that it should, in connection with the rerouting of cars, greatly relieve traffic congestion and reduce accidents.

The following are the changes adopted:
(1) The safe avenue—it is recommended that the safe avenue be provided on La Brea avenue, the provision that if the service is not maintained during a reasonable period, say three months, the safe avenue be discontinued.
(2) South Main street—it is recommended that the double track extension on Santa Barbara street be discontinued.
(3) Santa Barbara street—it is recommended that the double track extension on Santa Barbara street be discontinued.
(4) Santa Barbara street—it is recommended that the double track extension on Santa Barbara street be discontinued.

"Southern California, with its wonderful climate, splendid labor conditions and remarkable terrain, is certain to come to the front as an aviation advance. Not only in the operation of aircraft but in the construction of the airplane industry, the center of manufacturing activities. The weather makes it possible to conduct experimental work all the year round, while the labor conditions in Los Angeles and its comparative closeness to the spruce forests of the Northwest mean that airplanes can be built more cheaply here than any place else in the country. If not the world, Los Angeles has every reason to occupy the place in the airplane world that Detroit does in motorcars."

SOUTHERN ROUTE BEST.
"On the other hand it is possible to turn south from Chicago and follow approximately the route of the Santa Fe and maintain service throughout the year. The weather is better and the country over which the planes will fly is so far superior to the northern route that there is no comparison. No such great altitudes need be negotiated as in the Salt Lake-San Francisco route and by night flying it is perfectly possible to deliver mail in New York thirty-six hours after leaving Los Angeles."

The Postoffice Department is now using three types of big airplanes on various routes. On the New York-Washington route, the twin-engine DeHavilland, using two six-cylinder Liberty motors and carrying 600 pounds of mail in its fuselage. On the longer New York-Chicago route the Martin mailplane is running and the new Thomas-Morse mailplane will soon be put in use. The Thomas-Morse has two 300-horsepower Hispano-Suiza motors and carries 1000 pounds of mail. It is now undergoing tests.

"The big Martin Mailplane is very similar to the Martin bomber. It uses two 400-horsepower Liberty motors and carries 1000 pounds of first-class mail. For each one of these giant machines the Postoffice Department has been able to take a full-size mail car off the run. The plane is only big, but very fast, having a speed of 120 miles an hour. They

BARNES WITNESS SUES.
Demands Money She Says is Due
From Circus Man's Lawyer.

Asian aftermath of the sensational Barnes divorce suit in which Jane Hartigan was leading witness for Al G. Barnes, circus proprietor, she filed suit yesterday against Leo V. Youngworth, attorney for Mr. Barnes, demanding an alleged balance due her of $222.

The complaint filed through Attorney Francis J. Henry stated that Mr. Barnes agreed to pay $1500 for use and benefit. She says she received of this amount $478. She now demands the balance.

Mr. Youngworth stated that his relations with Mr. Barnes were of a confidential nature. "I don't know what Jane Hartigan means by this suit," he said. "I cannot divulge any confidential relations with a client."

REPORTED IMPROVING.

Although seriously injured, Mrs. Florence Gaze of 1241 West Ninth place and Mrs. M. P. Chase of 117 West Manchester avenue, who were injured in an automobile accident at Main and West Seventy-fifth streets Wednesday evening, were reported improving at the Angeles hospital late yesterday. Miss Elsie Mann, 1144 West Ninety-second street, who was injured in the same accident, was slightly injured in the same accident, is recovering, surgeons say.

Mrs. Gaze, who was driving the automobile in which all the persons injured were riding, collided with the automobile driven by E. J. Lippman of 131 Eighth street, San Pedro, when the brakes on her machine failed to work. Police who investigated the accident say that it was unavoidable.

SHERIFF IS NO NOAH.

Sheriff Cline has given it up. In a statement attached to a writ that he returned to the superior court yesterday, he confesses that he is no Noah.

Some sixty days ago, it seems, he went to the island of Santa Catalina, but upon reaching the island he found the land owned by J. Kohara. He found the land all right, but upon reaching the island he found the land owned by J. Kohara. He found the land all right, but upon reaching the island he found the land owned by J. Kohara.

The smile meant much, for it seems that after making two attempts to launch the ark, the dusky artificer had put a concrete bottom in his craft that to all appearances anchors it more firmly to the land than ever before. Hence, the return of the writ, which is accompanied by the following statement by the Sheriff:

"As the time has passed and the present date is over sixty days since the time we received the writ, I therefore return the annexed writ wholly unused as to the quiet and peaceful possession of the land described in the said writ."

The builder of the ark leased the land at Terminal Island from J. Kohara, upon which to build the ark. Last August the owner of the land filed suit in ejectment against Lewis and got judgment for possession of the land and the recovery of $90 rent. He got a writ of possession and turned it over to the Sheriff. Nobody wants the ark but Lewis and J. Kohara cannot use the land until the ark is launched or removed, whereas, to tear it down would be an expensive job.

GET THIRD OF QUOTA
FOR JEWISH RELIEF.

WIDOW GIVES DEED FOR LOT;
BENEFIT SHOW PLANNED FOR SUNDAY NIGHT.

With one-third of the quota of $115,000 subscribed in the Jewish Relief campaign in Los Angeles, $75 business men in fifty-seven teams, started yesterday on a final wind-up canvass to put the city over the top.

Mrs. Charlotte Marx, a widow, donated a class deed to a lot in Los Angeles valued at $1500, which will be sold at auction. The Victor Hugo Cafe sent in $5400 donated by its patrons. The Wholesome Dog Goggles Association subscribed $5000 and expects to double this amount by Saturday. Thousands of dollars were received by the society girls with their "bread" collection boxes at theaters and downtown street corners.

Warren leads the county committee in a subscription with Long Beach a close second. Long Beach will hold a big circus today to help raise its quota of $25,000.

Sunday evening a benefit performance will be given at the Mason Opera-house. Among the screen stars on the programme are Rex Mix and his famous pony, Red Cody, Al St. John, Babe Danila, Kate Paxton and Bull Montana, Charles H. Melson, Harry Booker, Alta Allen, Harry McCoy, Miss Nanson Walsh, and the six Masitti brothers will present vaudeville specialties.

GAVE UP ARMS.
DUSSELDORF, April 2.—The workmen of the Ruhr district were ordered to surrender their arms to local authorities April 1 under the agreement between the central committee of the German General Confederation of workers.

The commander of the Corps before Weasel gave a statement at the conference for the strict observance of the agreement. He said he had really a good deal of trouble in getting the workmen to give up their arms. He said that he could not continue fighting as he lacked ammunition, and that all looting had been stopped.

"I will shoot with my own hands," he said, "and Communist leaders who refuse to give up their arms will be shot. Assurance was given, however, that no more trouble.
